SIX DEATHS BLAMED ON STORM

Hospital Fire Kills Fourteen

9 Women, 5 Children Are Victims Of Blaze

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Fourteen women and children perished Wednesday night in a fierce blaze that swept a three-story building at the Huntington State Hospital, a mental institution.

President Joe F. Burdette of the State Board of Control, which supervises the state's institutions, announced the death toll as complete and official.

Two hours after the fire roared through the 56-year-old building, Burdette said the blaze took 15 lives. After a thorough recheck, he brought the figure down one.

Five of the victims were young girls, 15 or younger. The others were elderly women, the oldest 89.

Capt. C. C. Martin of the fire department said attendants on duty did a heroic job getting the other 170 or so patients out of the old brick building.

Firemen had to use acetylene torches to cut through the wire screen on the first floor of the mental hospital because the front entrance was engulfed in flames.

Most Highways Reported Open; Snow Measured Up To 14 In.

... Clearing Skies, Lower Winds Aiding In Digging Out

Nebraskans began the long task of digging out Wednesday as the first blizzard of the season moved out of the state, leaving its toll of clogged roads, tangled communications—and death.

Clearing skies and lower winds provided a back-drop for repair work on snarled power and telephone lines and for road crews fighting to clear state highways.

Late Wednesday most highways which had been closed by the 14-inch snowfall and rocking, 61 mile per hour winds were opened to at least limited traffic.

Severe cold Thursday may slow up recovery from the storm. At midnight Wednesday both Sidney and Scottsbluff reported 5 below zero readings, Lexington had 3 below and North Platte 2 below. It was zero at Chadron and Imperial. In the "warmer" eastern part of the state at the same time Lincoln reported 13 above and Omaha 14 above.

Grimmer Side

On the grimmer side of the blizzard aftermath were the reports of six deaths in Nebraska caused either directly or indirectly by the storm.

These included two traffic deaths, one death as a result of carbon monoxide poisoning in a stalled car, two deaths apparently brought on by storm-caused over-exertion, and one freezing death.

Robert Kovanda, about 47, of Wahoo, was found dead Wednesday in his snow-stalled auto on a road east of Yutan. Patrolmen who found his body said death appeared to have been caused by carbon monoxide escaping into the car.

Found In Snow

William Fred Hawek, about 60, Omaha tailor, was found in the snow, apparently frozen to death, about seven blocks from his home.

Guy S. Atkins, 59, machinist at Hastings, Neb., Naval Ammunition Depot, collapsed and died late Tuesday after trying to dig his car out of snow at the depot.

George J. Early, 55, of Lincoln, collapsed and died after walking home through the snow and wind when his car stalled.

Mrs. Mary Filbin, Cheyenne, Wyo., was killed in a crash involving two cars and a snowplow 18 miles east of Chappell, Neb.

George H. Craig, 24, Magnet, Neb., was killed in an auto collision near West Point during the blinding snowstorm.

Mrs. Philip Trochtenberg of Anita, Ia., suffering from a heart condition, survived an all-night stay in a snow-blocked car and arrived in good spirits at an Omaha hospital late Wednesday, 27 hours after she left her home 70 miles away. Iowa Highway Patrol officers and a snowplow reached the woman at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in a snow-stalled car 21 miles out of Council Bluffs on Highway 6.

The State Highway Patrol and Highway Department reported after a day of road-clearing that only Highways 34 and 2 east of Lincoln were still closed. Principal highways, such as 30, 6 and 81, were open to one-way traffic in places. The patrol cautioned that drivers should not venture out on any of the roads without chains because of continued drifting and ice.

Highway 33 from Lincoln to Crete was open and Highway 2 and 34 west was open from Lincoln to Halsey and No. 75 was open from Auburn to Omaha. The patrol said roadclearing equipment and heavy trucks have been unable to make more than narrow trails in some drifts. Countless cars and trucks were still stalled on or along highways.

Transportation services were getting back to normal. Buslines, after stopping service entirely late Tuesday, began moving between Omaha and Lincoln and westward Wednesday. United Airlines was still by-passing Lincoln and Omaha but hoped to have two-engine planes in service early Thursday.

Trains were operating slightly behind schedule. No railroad lines in the state were closed by the storm.

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company said late Wednesday that 46 long distance lines had been knocked out by the storm, but that eight of those were restored during the day.

Crews Hampered

Telephone linemen were hampered by blocked country roads along which many main telephone lines are placed. A spokesman said damage was caused by a heavy ice coat on the wires which caused them to swing in the high wind and to become entangled. Few broken lines or poles were reported.

Still cut off from outside telephone service are the following localities: Falls City, Adams, Eagle, Martell, Hickman and Firth in Nebraska, and Kansas City, Topeka and St. Joseph, Mo., out of state.

Power facilities suffered heavily. Officials at the Omaha Public Power District said line breaks kept their full repair crew on the job through the night and day. Service was disrupted for several hours to towns west of Omaha.

Impact Hit Here

The blizzard which laid from five to 14 inches of snow over the state was blowing itself out in northern Wisconsin Wednesday. Nebraska and Kansas apparently felt the worst impact of the storm. Parts of Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Oklahoma and Texas also received snow.

Repair workers, as well as those who can look forward to having a Thanksgiving holiday, can look for clear skies and diminishing winds Thursday. But temperatures, after dipping to 10 above in the southeast Wednesday night, are not expected to go above 22 degrees in Nebraska Thursday.

Following is a report on conditions in several southeastern Nebraska areas gathered by The Star:

WILBER: Schools and rural mail delivery closed; outside highways open. A local meat company reported that five of its trucks were missing as a result of the storm.

CRETE: Large drifts make travel difficult east of here, but power and telephone service were not disrupted.

DORCHESTER: Many travelers on country roads were forced to take refuge in farm homes near here. Schools were closed and business in town nearly paralyzed.

PAWNEE CITY: Approximately a dozen train passengers were stranded here due to the storm. Five to six foot drifts are keeping all highways in the area blocked. Schools were closed Wednesday, but must business houses were open.

WYMORE: A number of motorists stranded here in local hotel. Highway 77 open to Beatrice. Town getting scooped out after 10-inch snowfall.

WAHOO: Mayor Lloyd Torrens reported only one-way traffic on Highway 30A and 77 north of town. Schools were open here Wednesday. Dozens of motorists stranded.

TECUMSEH: Snow badly drifted in spots. Some power and telephone trouble reported throughout area. All highways plugged. Business as usual, however.

FRIEND—Two storm babies arrived safely Wednesday after their mothers made a hurried trip to the Friend hospital during the Tuesday night blizzard. Neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ekeler of near Exeter helped in getting Mrs. Ekeler to the hospital. Another Exeter couple, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dostal, encountered little difficulty in making their way to Friend. Both couples are the proud parents of baby girls.

NEBRASKA CITY — Although Nebraska City remained practically isolated from the rest of the country due to blocked roads, the city was beginning to get back to normal. Residents were without electrical service about three hours Wednesday morning.

Thanksgiving—Turkey Style—Comes To Korea

SEOUL (AP)—American frontline troops ate full course Thanksgiving dinners Thursday with the warning from their commander that "Godless Communism wants no peace" in Korea.

Holiday feasts were preceded by religious services of all faiths—held even in frontline dugouts—more elaborate than on either of the two preceding Thanksgiving Days of the Korean War.

Battle lines were relatively quiet as the day dawned.

The traditional turkey dinner, from shrimp cocktail to nuts and 18 ounces of turkey per man, was prepared for every soldier in Korea.

They shared the American feast with troops of almost every other one of the 21 United Nations fighting in Korea.

Some of the nations' soldiers do not care for the turkey menu.

Here is the Thanksgiving Day menu:

Shrimp cocktail
Stuffed celery, olives, pickles
Roast young tom turkey with poultry dresing and giblet gravy
Cranberry sauce
Snow-flaked potatoes and buttered peas
Cole slaw
Hot Parker House rolls and oleomargarine
Pumpkin pie and fruit cake
Apples, tangerines and oranges
Candy and mixed nuts
Coffee

"We have a large allowance of everything," said Col. J. D. Bell of La Canada, Calif., and Bellwood, Neb., the Eighth Army quartermaster. "Every man gets a real Thanksgiving dinner."

"Last year at this time we thought that peace would be here before Thanksgiving came around again," Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, told his troops.

"But it is Communism we are fighting, not the innocent North Koreans, or the Chinese people—and Godless Communism wants no peace until the free peoples of the world have all been enslaved under their world government. . .

"Let us all thank God that we have allies to fight with us and that we have a united team in Korea."

PW Plan Changed By India

Urges United Nations Hold Final Authority

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—India staged a new bid Wednesday night for U. S. support of its compromise repatriation plan by proposing that the United Nations take final charge of releasing Korean War prisoners refusing to return home.

Indian U. N. delegate V. K. Krishna Menon announced the second amendment of disputed portions of his resolution after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky declared in the Political Committee that Red China had informed India it could not accept the compromise plan.

Western delegations are convinced that despite still unsatisfactory provisions in the India resolution, it will be approved by overwhelming majority in the next two days.

Political Conference

Menon submitted an amendment to the key provision of his plan under which a political conference, designated to meet by the Panmunjom armistice agreement 90 days after a truce is in effect, would handle the war prisoner repatriation.

His amendment proposed that if prisoners are still not repatriated after 60 days, then "responsibility for their care and maintenance and subsequent disposition shall be referred to U.N. which in all matters relating to them shall act strictly in accord with international law."

Menon's latest amendment apparently still falls far short of U.S. desires. Secretary of State Dean Acheson insisted in recent statements that safeguards be offered assuring the release of war prisoners without any danger of indefinite detention.

The Political Committee, ignoring Vishinsky's protests and warnings that such action would not bring Soviet "co-operation," swiftly voted 49 to 5 for priority debate on the India resolution. The U.S. and Britain voted in unison again after their recent split on the Indian plan.

Low Bid Of $14,901 Accepted For Bonds On State Employees

The board of educational lands and funds Wednesday accepted low bids of $14,901.94 for bonds covering state employees to a total amount of $18,617,000.

Held for further study were the bonds of the heads of code departments amounting to $292,500 for which Ohio Casualty Co. through Agent Weir Carson, Des Moines. Ia., bid $828.15.

The state insurance department, Secretary of State James Pittenger reported to the board, raised questions as to whether the bid was in conformity with the law requiring listing of premiums on bonds with the department.

Second low bid for the bonds of $946.93 was offered by the Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Co. which also was low on blanket bonds for department employees of the state amounting to $16,-970,000 for which the premium was $8,558. It is the largest bond written but covers a majority of workers who do not bandle money.

The million dollar bond for the state treasurer which for years has been considered the "plum" of insurance agents and usually divided between four or five companies went to Weaver-Minier Co., Ltd., Lincoln, representing the Indemnity Insurance Co. of North America. Their low bid was $4,-856 with nine companies submitting identical bids of $5,087.50.

Surplus of the Indemnity Insurance Co., was sufficient to meet requirements of state law without re-insuring with other companies as has been done in the past. In was understood the company would do its own reinsuring which would not affect premiums.

The individual bonds of state officials and commissions amounting to $492,000 went to Ben Joyce & Associates for the Anchor Casualty Co., at a premium of $978.

The bid on the treasurer's bond also included the $50,000 bond of his deputy.

GOP Membership In House Boosted By California Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican victory in a long-in-doubt California district Wednesday raised the GOP House membership in the new Congress to 221.

Democrats hold 213 seats and an independent one. One seat is vacant because of the death of Rep. Adolph Sabath, Illinois Democrat, since the election.

California's 13th District election was the one undecided for so long. The final official count Wednesday, including absentees, showed incumbent Republican Ernest K. Bramblett won re-election by 2,980 votes.

The Senate lineup for the new Congress is 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one independent—Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

Polish Foreign Minister Gives His Pistol To U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. sources said Wednesday Poland's foreign minister, Stanislaw Skrzesezewski, has turned his pistol over to the U. N. for safekeeping and expects to get it back when he sails for home.

Skrzesezewski left the gun under his pillow in a New York hotel room last month. A maid discovered it and a furore was created in the diplomatic set when the hotel reported it to the authorities.

The Polish diplomat was asked to submit fingerprints and a photograph of himself in order to register the pistol under New York regulations.

Considerable Damage Done By Home Blaze

Considerable damage was done Wednesday to the home of Boyd Beetem, 142 A, from a fire that started apparently from the flue of a wood stove used to heat the residence.

One of Beetem's daughters, Peggy, told firemen she had put wood in the stove half an hour before the fire was reported. The blaze was the third one recorded at the Beetem home.

The other two were reportedly caused by the same flue which runs from the stove to the side of the residence, rather than up through the roof. Firemen said the flue was improperly placed and not adequately protected from the side of the building.

Damage was done to the low roof of the building on the north side, and extensively through the attic, especially under the eaves. No estimate was made on the amount of damage, and it was not known if there was insurance coverage.

Mr. Beetem works as a truck driver for the Smith Dairy.

Stranded Motorists Are Put Up At City Auditorium In Beatrice

BEATRICE, Neb. — (Lincoln Star Special)—Red Cross officials set up headquarters at the Beatrice City Auditorium Wednesday to accommodate motorists stranded by snowblocked roads.

Snowplows earlier in the day opened Highway 77 north of Beatrice to reach the 350 persons who spent Tuesday night at Highland Center, located 14 miles north of the Gage County seat.

Three farmsteads and the filling station at the center, its lone business, gave refuge to the motorists. At one farm home, some 80 persons were housed.

Bus Stranded

Among vehicles stranded at this corner was a Fairbury bound bus. Some of the passengers remained in the bus overnight while the others fought their way to a nearby farm house. Coffee and candy bars were distributed to those left in the bus. An expectant mother was reported among the passengers.

Fairbury Police Chief Joe Cook and Highway Patrolman William Bonsall were among those stranded at Highland Center. The pair had made an emergency trip to Lincoln earlier Tuesday to secure blood plasma for Herman Weise, a Fairbury hospital patient. En route back to Fairbury their car stalled at the Beatrice corner.

They spent Wednesday night in Beatrice as Highway 3 remains closed between here and Fairbury. The road is expected to be opened sometime Thursday.

Meanwhile, another shipment of blood plasma was sent to Fairbury from Lincoln via the Rocket, Rock Island train. Weise is reported in good condition.

A trio of Beatrice girls reportedly spent the night of the blizzard in a convertible at the Highland Center spot. They were Audrey Bartlett, Nancy Seng and Verneal Stilker. They were able to reach Beatrice Wednesday afternoon and all were okay.

Within a two-mile area near Highland Center approximately 100 cars were marooned.

Many eastbound motorists are also stranded in Fairbury with hotels doing a land office business.

Hurt Students Spend 14 Hours In Wrecked Car

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP) — Three University of Nebraska students en route home for the Thanksgiving holiday spent 14 painful hours in their wrecked automobile about a half mile east of Holdrege before they were rescued Wednesday morning. All three were injured when the car plunged into a ditch.

Carl Kittle of Hayes Center was driving when the blinding snow caused him to lose his direction and the car plunged off the road. Kittle and his two companions, George Miller of Hayes Center and Joe Goucher of Elsie, sat in the car from 5:30 p.m. Tuesday until 7:30 a.m. Wednesday, keeping themselves warm with their supply of laundry and extra clothing.

Wednesday morning a passer-by found them and brought them to a Holdrege hospital. Kittle suffered a concussion, Miller a smashed nose and Goucher a twisted knee, their attending physician reported.

Minister And Co-Ed, Stranded In Storm, Are Reported Safe

DILLER, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—News of the safety of a missing Diller minister and a Wesleyan University student came Wednesday night in the form of a telephone call from the stranded.

Rev. Allen Menefee, pastor of the Diller and Ellis Methodist Churches, and Edith Palmer, student from Diller, telephoned relatives from Beatrice saying they were among the marooned in that town.

The two left Lincoln Tuesday afternoon during the blizzard. Between Cortland and Beatrice they were forced to leave their car and seek refuge in a farm house without a telephone.

Only Three County Roads Are Opened

Only three Lancaster County roads, those leading to Raymond, Malcolm, and Denton, were open late Wednesday night, according to County Road Superintendent R. J. Wittman.

Wittman reported that some short stretches were also open. The roads open include the old state highway as far as Raymond, the Malcolm road, and Denton roads both east and north.

"We're running into difficulty," Wittman said, "as the snow is wet underneath giving our plows practically no traction."

County roads at the outer edges of Lancaster County are completely closed, Wittman stressed.

Snow removal crews will work all day Thanksgiving Day.

Rex R. Dalrymple, clerk in the County Engineer's office, said the storm Tuesday was unusual in that the snow drifted both east and west and north and south.

The county's snow equipment includes four truck plows and approximately 30 maintainers, or auto patrols. There are 1,634 miles of county road in Lancaster County.

Diplomatic Post Quit By O'Dwyer

Ex-New York Mayor To Leave Mexico Job

From Press Dispatches

WASHINGTON — President Truman announced Wednesday that former New York Mayor William O'Dwyer, storm center of political difficulties, has resigned as ambassador to Mexico.

O'Dwyer

In Mexico City, O'Dwyer declared he resigned for "personal desires" and there was no other motivation, "political or otherwise." He added he would "like to stay in Mexico."

It was assumed that O'Dwyer quit the post because of the forthcoming change of administration. He was bitterly attacked by the Republicans during the recent presidential campaign and some of his severest crtics called for him to be ousted.

Truman staunchly defended O'Dwyer last year after the late Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska, Republican floor leader in the Senate, declared in a Senate speech that O'Dwyer had been put under a cloud and should be given an immediate trial or recalled from his post in Mexico.

The attacks on O'Dwyer were touched off by the sensational New York probe in 1951 by the Senate crime committee under Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn).

High Praise

Mr. Truman highly praised O'Dwyer and said he was accepting the resignation with "reluctance, for I know full well that in your departure from office our nation will lose the services of one of the most effective representatives it has ever sent to the great neighboring country of Mexico."

O'Dwyer returned from his Mexican post in 1951 to testify before the Kefauver committee in connection with charges of widespread corruption in his administration as Mayor of New York.

He was elected Mayor of New York City in 1945 and in 1949 was re-elected. Because of ill health, he resigned the post in 1950 to take the job as ambassador to Mexico.

Born in 1890, O'Dwyer also served as district attorney for of Kings County Court from 1937 given credit for breaking up Murder, Inc.. He later served as judge og Kings County Court from 1937 to 1940.

Tentative Agreement Reached On O Street Viaduct Plans

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Federal, state, county and Lincoln city officials have reached at least tentative agreement and approval of the proposed new O Street viaduct from 9th to 3rd.

Following a meeting with the state highway department, county officials held only one reservation. The three county commissioners attending the meeting said they would hold their final approval of the plans until after their public hearing of the proposal on Dec. 16.

With the section of O street involved now outside the city limits, it is up to the county to declare the area a secondary road, making it eligible for use of secondary road funds. With such funds, the federal givernment will pay the entire viaduct construction cost.

Bids By May 1

According to L. N. Ress, deputy state engineer, all parties concerned in the arrangement must be in agreement no later than Jan 1. That, he explained, will enable the state to complete final plans and receive bids by May 1.

A contract on the new viaduct, he emphasized, must be let by June 30 if the $1,500,000 estimated construction cost is to come from the secondary road funds. The funds expire after that date.

According to Mayor Victor E. Anderson, the new viaduct could not start at 8th instead of 9th as suggested by a group of objectors because the span would then have too steep a grade and fail to comply with Interstate Commerce Commission requirements.

8 Feet Higher

Those requirements, he explained, call for a 24-foot clearance between railroad tracks and the lowest part of the structure. With the new viaduct considerable thicker than the old structure, Anderson said, it will have to be about eight feet higher than the old structure.

That height, he said, eliminates the possibility of starting at 8th.

In the discussion of damage liabilities, City Attorney C. Russell Mattson pointed out that the city could not now participate in any damage payments since the area involved was outside the city limits.

The county fears damage suits from property owners who will lose frontage on O due to the 9th street termination point. A group of five businesses between 9th and 7th have already protested the removal of the street from the city.

Service Roads

Anderson pointed out, however, that 18 foot service roads will be provided on both sides of the new viaduct. Both roads will be one-way with parallel parking.

The Wednesday afternoon meeting was arranged to bring all parties concerned up to date on recent plans. State officials attending besides Ress were H. G. Schlitt and R. L. Meyer of the department of roads and irrigation. Federal representatives were L. V. Johnson and O. J. Eidman of the bureau of public roads. All three county commissioners, Chauncey Barney, Russell Brehm and Christ Kuhner, were in attendance as well as County Engineer Louis Weaver. Attending from the city besides Anderson and Mattson was City Engineer D. L. Erickson.

Also attending the meeting was the county committee charged with investigation of possible future claims. That group consists of Guy Chambers, chairman, Don Pegler Sr., Chris Beck and William Putney. Ray Judah, the fifth member, was absent.

North Korea Seared By Allied Raid

Military Stockpiles Blasted By Planes

SEOUL (Thursday) (INS)—Allied Superfortresses opened up Thanksgiving Day activity on the Korean War front by pummeling three military targets near the Red capital of Pyongyang.

A total of 13 Okinawa-based B-29s slammed tons of bombs into a 1,700-foot timber railroad bridge on the southwestern edge of the North Korean capital and also hit two supply and troop areas.

Night-raiding B-26 twin-engine bombers wiped out 155 Red supply trucks rushing recklessly down highways toward the front from Manchuria. The raids boosted the total for November to 2,521 Communist trucks destroyed, higher even than the total destroyed last month when the Reds began their heavy movement of supplies southwards.

B-29 Superforts dumped 120 tons of high explosives on two troop and supply assembly areas in northwest Korea. The main target was a 95-acre assembly zone at Tosong, west of Sinanju. The smaller target was at Songiri, ten miles northwest of Pyongyang.

Red night fighters flew near the four-engine Superforts over Tosong but did not close to attack as the medium bombers dropped their bombs in the midst of the 140 troop and supply buildings.

3 Carloads Of Army Ammunition Blow Up

CHALONS-SUR-MARNE, France (AP)—Three carloads of U. S. Army ammunition blew up in a railway switch yard here Wednesday, setting fire to 25 freight cars on adjoining tracks and ripping up 20 lengths of rail.

U. S. Army ordnance and bomb demolition experts probed the still burning ruins Wednesday night to learn whether sabotage caused the blast.

Though the damage was extensive, no one was injured.

The ammunition was bound for American forces in Germany. It came from U. S. Army depots in Southwestern France.

Chalons-Sur-Marne is 100 miles east of Paris.

Portraits Removed

NEW DELHI (AP)—Parliament officials have decided to remove the seven British portraits which have smiled down on India's lawmakers for five years of independence.

The portraits—King Edward VII, King George VI, and five former British viceroys in India—have been turned over to the national archives.

"We consider them precious relics of the British period of Indian history," an official explained. "But they are out of place now in official buildings. They will be properly preserved."

Cold Audience Warmly Lauds Production Of Hellman Story

By DON WRIGHT
Star Staff Writer

Braving icy streets and biting temperatures, first nighters warmly applauded the Circlet Theater's second production of the season Wednesday night, the entertaining but dismal "Another Part of the Forest."

Written by Lillian Hellman, the story features the machinations of a cruel and calculating Southern family, one of the new rich. The scene is laid in the Alabama town of Bowden in the 1880s.

Although essentially a story of a vengeful son and his successful attempt to wrest control of the family wealth from father, in this production at least, acting laurels go to the mother.

Lesser Role

In spite of a lesser role and fewer speaking parts, Vivian Trott as Lavinia Hubberd by all odds gave the impression of living and feeling the part of the eccentric mother. In a word, Mrs. Trott's portrayal was a "natural."

The usual outstanding performance was turned in by George Wilson as the father, the domineering Civil War draft dodger and traitor, Marcus Hubbard. All in all, a job equal to his part in "The Heiress."

Equally as good were the characterizations turned in by Don Woodmency and Carolyn Smith.

Woodmency in the role of the elder son, Benjamin who aptly describes the family when he remarks, "I don't believe anyone in this family can love."

'Artful Picture'

Mrs. Smith, in her first appearance on the Circlet stage, presents an artful picture of a scheming daughter who manages to keep the plots boiling, thereby milking her father of her every desire. Only Benjamin finally outwits her—at least in this sequel of the Hubbard family.

Capably handling the part of the brash younger son, Oscar, was George Hancock, University of Nebraska senior making his first appearance for Circlet.

With only a minor role for her part, Alison Faulkner, playing the giddy girl friend of young Oscar, got the most out of her barbed comment on the father's station in life.

Equally as professional performances were made in the supplementary roles by Chrisitine Phillips, Lillian Bradley, Elbert Starks, Richard Spahn, Don Morrow and Milton Grimes.

Under the capable direction of Karl Sittler, the once-postponed Circlet production will run until Dec. 7. There will be no reserved tickets sold for the Thanksgiving Day performance.

A word of advice: come warmly dressed. Although held on the site of the Municipal Swimming Pool at 22nd & M, this is November not July.

U.S. College Enrollment Up; First Time Since '49

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of students enrolled in the nation's colleges and universities has increased for the first time since 1949, Commissioner of Education Earl James McGrath reported Wednesday.

This year's full enrollment totalled 2,148,284, compared with 2,116,440 a year ago.

Commenting on reports gathered from 1,800 educational institutions, McGrath said:

"Part of the rise in number of college freshmen can be attributed to the larger number of high school graduates last June and partly to favorable economic conditions."

NO UN-AMERICANISM — Associate director of the half-billion dollar Ford Foundation, Robert M. Hutchins tells House investigators in Washington that organizations such as his are in no way aiding subversive elements. VA Shakeup To Save U.S. $10 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—A shakeup aimed at bringing about streamlining, a yearly saving of perhaps $10 million, and better service in the sprawling Veterans Administration was announced Wednesday by veterans administrator Carl R. Gray.

At the same time, Gray turned loose a long-secret private survey of VA made by a private firm and said he was rejecting one of its principal proposals—that VA regional offices be reduced largely to information and advisory centers at a saving of another $15 million.

The report, made by the Chicago management consultant firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton, blasted VA as trying to operate on an "outmoded" organization plan while praising its as "performing an excellent job" with no "basic dereliction of its duty and responsibility."

Other Sources

Some recommendations in the report were accepted and already are being put into effect, Gray told a news conference. But the reorganization plan the Veterans has adopted is based on ideas from other sources, too, he said.

The heart of the plan is to set up three major departments in VA. One will handle medical and surgical care for veterans. Another will be in charge of insurance. A third will manage such benefits as claims, loan guarantees and vocational training. Instead of a dozen operating agencies, responsibile directly to him, Gray said, there now will be three-headed by deputy administrators.

Gray said the idea of self-contained autonomous medical and insurance departments originated with VA and was accepted by the management consultant firm.

Booz, Allen and Hamilton got $605,000 for the 18-month survey.

Airmen's Club Bid Opening Is Postponed

Bid openings on the airmen's club to be constructed at the Lincoln Air Force Base have been postponed until next Wednesday, Dec. 3, at 3 p.m.

The Omaha district office of the Army Engineers Corps said Wednesday, the day for which the bids had been originally called, that postponement had been made on Nov. 19, when additional specifications had been sent to bidders because of "change in design."

The opening date of Dec. 3, is one week later than the originally scheduled date.

Fifteen Die In Midwest Snowstorms

High Winds And Snow Snarl States' Traffic

By The Associated Press

An early winter assault on the Midwest slackened on Thanksgiving Eve after at least 15 persons died and traffic was tied up from Colorado east to Minnesota.

Snow whipped by winds up to 50 miles an hour coupled with the coldest weather so far this season congested traffic, marooned hundreds of travelers and closed schools. Snowfall totaled as much as a foot in some places.

Six deaths were attributed to the storm in Nebraska, three in Iowa, four in Kansas, one in Oklahoma and one in Texas.

Eight inches of snow had been dumped on Omaha before sunshine returned Wednesday and the blizzard moved into the digout phase.

Farther west, temperatures had plummeted below zero—32 below at Yellowstone on the Wyoming-Montana border — before colder weather moved eastward.

Most railroad lines were kept open, but the Santa Fe's Super Chief luxury train from Chicago to California, rammed into a snow drift near Macksville, Kan., with such force that the locomotive was damaged and snow crews had to work eight hours to free it. No one was injured.

While this train was having its troubles, other trains of the Santa Fe and Union Pacific Railroads were rescuing stranded motorists—hundreds of them—from snowbound highways adjacent to the railroad tracks.

Near New Cambria, Kan., one group of stranded students had to form a human chain to reach the rescue train from their stalled automobiles as the wind became too powerful for individuals to buck.

Wichita, Kan., was the hardest hit city. This city of 170,000 population had public transportation and power disrupted for a time. Schools canceled classes.

Two babies were born to storm refugees in Iowa, and numerous injuries were reported as a direct result of the weather.

Mrs. Eisenhower Plans Tour Of Future Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced Wednesday that Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower will come down from New York Monday to go through the executive mansion where she and the President-elect will live after Jan. 20.

Mrs. James Helm, White House social secretary, said Mrs. Eisenhower telephoned Mrs. Harry S. Truman to ask if this would be agreeable, and that Mrs. Truman immediately invited her.

Chinese Seek New Homes

HONG KONG (AP)—More than 10,000 Chinese in this British colony have applied for admission into six Latin-American countries during the past three months.

Press reports indicate large numbers have been granted entry permits to Brazil and Venezuela, but not many were being admitted to Argentina, Mexico, Cuba and Chile. The applicants are mostly dependents of Chinese living abroad who can no longer receive remittances.

Each Vote Cast In Scotts Bluff Cost County 90 Cents

GERING, Neb. (AP)—Even voting cost more in 1952.

The Scotts Bluff County clerk's office reported here Wednesday that total cost of the combined primary and general elections in the county will be approximately 90 cents a voter.

The county spent $6,092.81 in the Nov. 4 election, about 45 cents for each of the 13,263 persons casting ballots; and $6,029 on the April 1 primary.

Last presidential election 1948 cost the county $4,421.49 not counting the primary.

Five voting precincts have been added in the county since the 1948 election.

Joe Stalin's Son Injured In Jet Fighter Accident

LONDON (Thursday)—INS—A London Daily Graphic columnist said Wednesday diplomatic quarters received a report that Premier Stalin's son, Vassili Stalin, was seriously injured while testing a new jet fighter.

The columnist said part of young Stalin's left arm was amputated, but the Soviet leader refused to visit his son at a Moscow hospital.

The columnist added according to the report, Stalin directed that news of the accident should be kept from the Russian people.

District Court Jury Awards Kirby $18,500 In Accident Damages Suit

John E. Kirby was awarded $18,500 by a District Court jury Wednesday in his accident damages suit brought against Wesley M. Lamareaux, Robert Dorsey and Paul H. Dorsey.

The verdict was reached by the jury six hours after it received instructions at 4:04 p.m. Wednesday.

Kirby, represented by Frederick H. Wagener and Elmer M. Scheele, asked damages of $70,250 from the defendants, who were represented by H. B. Evnen, John R. Baylor and George Healey.

Car Disabled

According to Kirby's petition, his car was disabled so he parked it near an entrance to a farm field off Highway 33, four and one-quarter miles east of Crete. Lamareaux offered to take Kirby back to Lincoln and then decided he could move Kirby's car onto the pavement. While Lamareaux and Kirby were attempting to get the car back onto the highway at 1:30 a.m. on Aug. 19, 1951, Robert Dorsey, driving his brother's car, struck Kirby while attempting to miss colliding with the Lamareaux car.

Kirby charges that he was thrown 30 feet as a result of the collision and was severely injured.

The Kirby petition charges that Dorsey was negligent as he was exceeding the speed limit of 50 miles per hour. He also charges Lamareaux with being negligent by obstructing the highway with his car and failing to direct the car's headlights in such a manner as to warn oncoming autos of his position.

District Judge Lyle E. Jackson of Neligh heard the case.

One other jury will resume its hearing of the civil suit, John J. Steck versus the Lincoln City Lines, on Friday. Judge Harry R. Ankeny excused the jurors from service Wednesday.

The remainder of the jury panel has been excused for the rest of the term by Judge John L. Polk.

Vandenberg And Rogers Given High Government Posts By Ike

. . . Appointment Secretary And Deputy Attorney General Posts Filled

NEW YORK (INS)—President-elect Eisenhower announced Wednesday the appointment of Arthur H. Vandenberg Jr. as his appointment secretary and William P. Rogers, federal corruption hunter, as deputy attorney general.

The announcement of the appointment of Vandenberg, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and son of the late Michigan senator, was made by New Hampshire's Gov. Sherman Adams, assistant to the President-elect. In addition to his appointment secretary post, Vandenberg will have other duties still to be worked out in the proposed reorganization of the White House staff. He served as aide to Eisenhower during the 1952 campaign.

Vandenberg

Rogers, a 39-year-old former assistant district attorney in New York, brought to light the "five percenter" and "deep freeze" scandals in the capital. He previously was chief counsel of the Senate war investigating committee—the so-called Truman committee—in 1947.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said the General will announce two more appointments at 2 p.m. CST Thursday. But that neither were on the cabinet level. Hagerty added that the General, who plans to go to Korea soon, will have a full schedule of appointments Friday, Saturday and Sunday and will announce new appointees to office on each of those days.

Following his appointment, Vandenberg said that he was "honored and proud" to be selected as one of Eisenhower's immediate staff.

His position in the White House will be similar to the one now held by Matthew Connelly, President Truman's appointment secretary.

William Rogers

Vandenberg, who is 45 and unmarried, was born in Grand Rapids. After his graduation from Dartmouth College, Vandenberg served with his father in Washington. He said for that reason "the Washington political scene will not be new to me."

Eisenhower will have a traditional Thanksgiving Day turkey dinner at his Morningside Heights home Thursday with Mrs. Eisenhower, and her mother, Mrs. Elvira Dowd, Mrs. John Eisenhower, wife of the General's son and her three children, David, 4, Barbara Anne, 3, and Susan, 10 months.

An unscheduled visitor Wednesday was Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis), a member of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations. He said he was calling on Attorney-General designate Herbert Brownell. Speculation was their talk covered the current investigation of alleged subversive activities by some American employes of the world organization.

In 1948 and 1949, Rogers served as counsel to the Senate investigating committee that smoked out influence peddlers and resulted in the conviction of John Maragon for perjury.

The announcement of Rogers' appointment came during a busy round of conferences at Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters. Important visitors of the day included M. S. Pitzele, chairman of the New York mediation board; Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense for manpower, and Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, who nominated Eisenhower at the convention.

Mrs. Rosenberg, who returned from Korea last Sunday, spent nearly an hour with Eisenhower.

When she emerged from the general's office, she told newsmen that she had come to report on her trip to Korea.

When asked if Ike had requested her to remain in the Defense Department, Mrs. Rosenberg parried the question by saying:

"I went to Washington for a period of only eight months to help George C. Marshall (then secretary of defense) and I think I have been there for two years and three months—that's long enough for anyone."

She added, however, "of course, if there was anything I could do for Gen. Eisenhower, I would do it."

Seoul Turned Into Armed Camp For Protection Of Ike

SEOUL (AP)—Seoul was clamped Thursday under the tightest security measures this war-battered capital has ever known.

Thousands of South Korean Army troops, metropolitan police and plain clothesmen turned the city into an armed camp as they took every precaution for the safety of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower during his forthcoming visit to Korea.

An unannounced number of "security risks" were rounded up.

Security guards were posted every 10 to 20 yards along the main thorough fares.

Among the welcomers will be Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of United Nations ground forces in Korea.

Eisenhower and Van Fleet were color sergeants at West Point in 1915, their graduation year. Eisenhower carried the national colors and Van Fleet the corps colors.

Van Fleet was a fullback on West Point's 1915 team. Eisenhower had to quit playing football in his sophomore year because of a knee injury.

Wainwright To Appear In Provoo Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, the hero of Bataan, has agreed "to appear as a witness for the defense" in the trial of one of his former soldiers, John D. Provoo, charged with treason.

A defense lawyer said in court Wednesday the general "would like to testify during the week of Dec. 8."

Wainwright, like Provoo, was captured by the Japanese in the fall of Corregidor in 1942.

The 35-year-old Provoo is accused of going over to the Japanese side and betraying an American captain, Burton C. Thomson, to execution at the hands of the enemy.

Provoo Blamed

One of the Japanese who shot Thomson testified the execution was ordered after Provoo complained the captain refused to give him American napkins and tablecloths to fete a visiting Japanese field marshal.

This witness, Seitaro Fujita, a former Japanese sergeant, was confronted Wednesday with a letter he once wrote absolving Provoo of blame for Thomson's death.

In the letter, Fujita wrote that Provoo reported Thomson to Japanese authorities only to "prevent others from being involved."

Fujita is serving 30 years in a Tokyo prison as a war criminal for Thomson's slaying.

Making Sense Of History

In a brilliant speech before the Phi Beta Kappa organization at the University of Nebraska early this week, Dr. Robert Sakai, instructor in history, outlined the pattern of Communist success in China. His primary point was that the western nations, and particularly the United States, had failed to give the Chinese people an alternative between Communism and a corrupt, unsympathetic government which had lost the confidence and faith of its people.

★

There is nothing new in this interpretation of the fall of China's millions in the eager hands of the Communist leaders. To anyone who understands the decline of the Nationalist government under Chiang Kai-shek in the years following the end of the war in the Pacific and the subsequent failure of his troops to withstand pressure from the Communist armies, this view makes sense, complete sense. Soldiers in the uniform of the Nationalist armies deserted by divisions when they no longer saw any hope under the leadership of Chiang and his lieutenants. Billions of dollars in aid from this country, as it turned out, were poured down a rathole as the graft-ridden Nationalist government failed to retain the respect of those millions of Chinese who had hoped for a better life once the devastation and suffering of war had passed.

★

There has been an intensive campaign in this country in an attempt to persuade us that a "soft" State Department sold China down the river. It has been aided and abetted, primarily for political purposes, by some men high in public life. It has become the tune of a vocal group which has sung the same song for months on end. It has been repeated again and again until the monotony has become oppressive. And it is nonsense, the sheerest kind of nonsense.

★

Dr. Sakai emphasized that there was a majority of the Chinese people who fervently desired something better than the Nationalist government and something infinitely better than that which the Communists offered. It is a tragic fact that their hopes went glimmering and that when the chips were down, many of them turned reluctantly to the Communists for some sort of salvation. The same pattern applied to the Chinese intellectuals, Dr. Sakai pointed out, and they, too, found that there was no political organization capable of offering a middle way between the extremes of right and left. Despite some efforts in this country to foster the idea that the Nationalist government was allowed to fall, or even pushed, the indisputable fact remains that Chiang violently resisted any suggestion that social reforms be made to form a strong foundation of popular support for his government.

★

A special dispatch from Formosa to the New York Times this week is evidence that the Chinese Nationalists still have not learned their lesson. The dispatch makes no attempt to interpret a program of reform instituted by the Nationalist parliament on Formosa, but the facts speak for themselves. More than 500,000 acres of land now being tilled by tenant farmers on Formosa are scheduled to change hands early next year in a program designed to convert the tenants into small land-owners. The new land-owners will be expected to pay for the land in 20 installments over a 10-year period at an interest rate of four per cent a year. The government is preparing to act as middleman in the land transfer process and is scheduled to buy land from the landlords for two and a half times the value of the annual main crop. So far, so good.

★

Here, however, the dispatch states that once the tenant becomes a land-owner he becomes liable not only for amortization payments and interest but also will be subjected to a land tax. It is a notorious fact that the large Chinese land-owners down through the years have evaded payment of taxes because of their tremendous political influence. Thus the great "land reform" gives the government an opportunity to collect taxes in large amounts which heretofore have been evaded, and the large landlords could hardly be anything but gratified at the generous payments made to them by the Chinese Nationalist middleman. This leaves only the small farmers to be accounted for. The dispatch in a single impressive sentence answers the question of the position of the farmers:

"According to Dr. H. S. Tang, chief of the land division in the Joint Commission for Rural Reconstruction, the new land-owner's burden will not be greater than it is now."

★

That is some reform! One can see the 240,000 tenant families who will be affected by the government's action jumping for joy and shouting to the skies their devotion and affection for the Nationalist government! What they are seeking is something to lessen their burden, not a synthetic reform measure aimed at giving them something equally burdensome.

Chiang is no closer to his people today than he was in the dark days when Chinese by the millions deserted him. Debate of past mistakes serves some purpose, admittedly, but here is an example of the present for all to see and for all to gaze upon in wonderment.

This Shrinking World

The long-expected flight to blaze a trail across the North Pole is now an accomplished fact. A plane flying the colors of Scandinavian Airlines completed the journey from Los Angeles to Copenhagen, going by way of Alberta and Greenland, creating a shortcut which brings to reality a vision long held by men of many nations. These men did not look upon the world in the distorted picture of a flat map; they knew that traditional routes could be shortened if man could conquer the elements which blocked his way.

The name of the plane is wonderfully appropriate—"Arild Viking." Its Danish captain, with typical Scandinavian modesty, dismissed the trip as "routine" and a "pleasure cruise." But it was, needless to say, far more than that. The new flight route cuts a thousand miles from the span separating Europe and our West Coast.

It was not many years ago when an enterprising American newspaperman sought to have a dirigible and a submarine exchange messages through a hole in the ice at the North Pole. It was a fantastic idea and more of a publicity stunt than anything else, because both the air and the water of the frozen North prohibited the venture at that time. Today, however, we have triumphed over the air and soon regularly scheduled passenger flights will pass over the icy waters of a forbidding region.

It is also appropriate that the Scandinavians, always great explorers, have led the way in this new and thrilling enterprise. The Arild Viking is a worthy successor to the Vikings of old who did so much to conquer the seas.

Hard-Working Housewife

A lot of notions about working women and housewives were tossed out the window this week by a survey on the habits of practicing housewives, both the full-time and part-time varieties, conducted by a company which specializes in household goods.

It seems that the married woman who thinks she could escape the burden of housework simply by getting a job is all wrong. The study of 700 women holding regular jobs and 250 housewives who let poppa bring home the bacon shows that the working gals spend as much time housekeeping as their sisters who lend all their energies to home-making.

Adding insult to the injury of this information is the revelation that husbands aren't likely to lend a hand with housework when the wife is also out working during the day. The man of the house is far more likely to come into the kitchen to raid the icebox, the survey indicates, than to help his mate with the dinner dishes.

Drawing a picture of an "average" urban wife, the researchers said she is 35 years old, has a child between 11 and 12 years old, makes $2,450 of the $6,290 which is family income, is employed 40 hours a week in a clerical job, lives in a five-room, one-family house and has a pet dog.

The picture may not be entirely accurate, drawn as it is in rough lines, but whether she's out working or not, the women can't escape the truth of that old adage about woman's work never being done.

A Low, Shoe-String Tackle

When it comes to deceptive ball-handling, tricky side-stepping and broken-field running, the president of the University of Oklahoma doesn't have to ride the bench in favor of any of the young men wearing the uniform of his university football team.

Not even Billy Vessels on his best day has equalled the reverse off a Statue of Liberty play executed so neatly by Dr. George Cross last week. The president of the Oklahoma institution went around right end after having gone around left end for more than a year.

It was in 1951 that Dr. Cross came out clearly in opposition to post-season games for football teams. He stated in no uncertain terms that as far as his Sooners were concerned, there would be no participation in any of the various and sundry bowl games which have cropped up wherever a stadium looks available at year's end. He repeated his position several times in the following months.

But lo and behold, there was Dr. Cross reversing his field and going down the other sideline a few days ago when he told a group of assembled students that the team could go to a bowl game if it so desired, and the Big Seven conference could go jump in any nearby pond, carrying its prohibitions of bowl games with it. Fortunately, the boys on the team voted against such rash action, but Dr. Cross didn't come out looking very consistent or very commendable.

When it comes to ethical standards in intercollegiate sports, there must be some leadership from educators. It is certainly less than fair for Dr. Cross to tell his educational colleagues one thing and then tell his students another.

It is now much easier to appreciate the story that has been told about Dr. Cross. Gathering his football squad together one day, the tale goes, the Oklahoma president assured the players that he was doing everything possible to "build a university of which the football team could be proud."

The Atom And Love

Time flies and times change. The word "atom" took only four lines in a famous encyclopedia when it was originally printed in 1768. The word "love" had five pages dedicated to it.

But in the new edition of the same encyclopedia, a researcher discovers that "atom" takes up five pages, and "love" isn't even mentioned.

Even Thanksgiving Day Had Bitter Opposition

WASHINGTON — Most people who sit down to enjoy their turkey dinners today don't know that Thanksgiving got all snarled up with politics and state's rights for about three-quarters of a century. In fact, the issue of states' rights kept Thanksgiving from becoming a national holiday for about half of our history.

It was George Washington in 1789 who first asked Congress to set aside a Thanksgiving holiday to be observed not merely by New England, as in the past, but by the entire nation. Congress, however, balked.

The Democrats accused Washington of exercising undue federal power and trampling on states' rights as the Republicans accuse Truman today. So, thanks to Democratic opposition, Thanksgiving did not become a national holiday until three-quarters of a century later, and then it was the merchants along sleepy Potomac who finally put it across.

Washington grocers and wine merchants woke up to the fact that they could sell fancy food on Thanksgiving Day, began advertising wine received from New York, turkeys received from Virginia, until business pressure on Congress became such that even the states' righters succumbed.

☆ ☆ ☆

Thanksgiving in the White House has changed in one important respect, but the White House menu has varied only slightly. Most Presidents in the past spent Thanksgiving working on their message to the lame-duck Congress. It even got to be a wisecrack around Washington that the President's turkey was spoiled by indigestible lame duck.

However, the Norris amendment changed all this. Today Congress meets not immediately after Thanksgiving, but after New Year's Day, and the President doesn't have to worry about facing a disagreeable Congress immediately after his turkey dinner.

Scrutiny of previous White House menus shows that earlier Presidents went a little heavier on meat, but otherwise their Thanksgiving diet was about the same.

President Lincoln, for instance, was given the following Thanksgiving banquet by the Sturgis Rifles in 1861, first year of the Civil War: chicken soup, roast beef, turkey, cranberry sauce, chicken, mallard duck, tame duck, boiled ham, boiled corn beef, fried oysters, boiled potatoes, sweet potatoes, boiled turnips, cabbage, celery, mince pie and cheese.

In 1876, President Grant, known as a heavy eater, sat down to the following: consomme imperiale, bisque de grevisse, sherry, woodcock patties, salmon, white wine, turkey, filet of beef, crawfish pudding, breast of pheasant, goose livers, roman punch, champagne, canvasback duck, warm sweet dish, red wine.

☆ ☆ ☆

EXIT CONTROLS?

The question of dropping all price and wage controls is under careful study at the White House.

Charley Murphy, painstaking White House counsel, has been ordered to assemble all the facts and submit a report to Truman in the near future.

Significantly, the pressure to drop price and wage controls has come from labor, not industry. Labor leaders want to get rid of the Wage Stabilization Board, figure that they can't do so unless price controls are dumped at the same time. Furthermore they figure that price controls are pretty well shot anyway and that prices are on their way down.

John Steelman, Truman's labor adviser, backs up this view and has been telling industry leaders that controls will be off in a short time.

Meanwhile, the man who has faithfully tried to administer controls, Economic Stabilizer Robert Putnam, tells his associates that he's in favor of continuing controls until all economic pressure is off.

But the final decision, he said, is up to the President.

TRUMAN'S SECRETARY

Harry McDonald, head of the giant Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and one of the Republicans Truman has appointed to a top job, gave a cocktail party the other evening in the Presidential Suite of the Hotel Statler.

The party was in honor of an important member of the White House staff, No. 1 Secretary Matt Connelly. Connelly is the man who decides who shall see the President, and he is also supposed to make his appointment schedule move on time. The presidential secretary having reached his 45th birthday last week, McDonald gave him a party to which was invited the politically elite of Washington, one of them being the President of the United States.

Mr. Truman arrived at 5:30, asked for the guest of honor. The guest of honor wasn't there. Truman waited, mingled with other guests, waited some more. Finally, after a full hour, Connelly didn't show.

The President departing, told McDonald:

"Tell your guest of honor that tomorrow he won't be in the doghouse. He'll be in the backhouse."

☆ ☆ ☆

EXITS AND ENTRANCES

The Eisenhower high command has quietly sent several experts to Washington to examine the biggest government agencies. They want to spot the key jobs in each agency and how many new executives they should appoint to control policy. The Republicans say privately they'll have to replace about 1,500 top officials to get a firm grip on government machinery...Although Republicans will soon control the White House and Congress, the Democrats will keep a firm grip on the federal courts where they outnumber Republicans 15 to 1. It will take the Republicans about 12 years before they can appoint enough judges to catch up with the Democrats

Astronomic Findings Reduce Man To Size

PALOMAR MOUNTAIN OBSERVATORY, California — The range of occupational diseases is pretty wide. Miners get silicosis from inhaling rock dust. The sand hogs who go down under rivers and harbors to put through traffic tunnels get the bends.

One of the occupational diseases of those of us who write about politics is a general hardening of the emotional arteries. This process, induced by prolonged and extreme cynicism, can cause the victim to look with a jaundiced and distrustful eye on the whole human race.

There is nothing like a political campaign to bring on the more acute symptoms. During the final stages of the prolonged bout that ended on November 4, this reporter was aware of serious symptoms—spots before the eyes, a dark brown taste in the mouth and a general refusal to accept anything anybody said as more than a barefaced fraud.

☆ ☆ ☆

This pilgrimage up Palomar Mountain is an antidote. It is for a few hours at least getting out of this world just as far as man has been able to project his vision. And by the standards of our little planet that is quite a long way off — a billion light years, or roughly, to put it down in ciphers, 6,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 miles away. No one will argue about a few hundred million miles more or less on that figure.

To get to Palomar Mountain from Los Angeles you drive south along the coast through the teeming neon brightness of the vast new life that has sprung up here. Turning inland from Oceanside, you go through lemon and orange and avocado country until the hills become steeper and then you start to wind up to the mile-high top of Palomar.

In the clear, thin air the great silvered dome of the observatory looks like a further projection of the mountain. It gives off the light reflected from the snow and the sense of stillness and remoteness is such as to make that furious life on the crowded highways below seem like the jittering of another and far more frenetic planet.

☆ ☆ ☆

The work at the observatory begins when darkness has set in. The great shield is opened and the 200-inch mirror, which required 13 years of the most expert and delicate care to grind and polish and install, is trained on the farthest frontier of the universe. With machinery more precise than the finest watch the 530-ton telescope is kept fixed on the area in space to be photographed.

On every night that is not cloudy this intensive mapping of the skies goes forward. The mirror catches light that has been traveling for a billion years and, as recorded on a photographic plate, it shows far more than can be seen with the eye applied to the telescope.

It is pitch dark in the dome and cold as it is outside, since the giant mirror is extraordinarily sensitive to the slightest change in temperature or light. On the master control board are two clocks with illuminated dials, one recording star time and the other Pacific time. Here are the push buttons that control the movements of the telescope. High up at other control points are astronomers guiding the operations of the two great cameras.

After four or five days they take their plates down to Pasadena and another shift of astronomers comes up to Palomar. At Pasadena in the astrophysical laboratory of Cal Tech the work of analysis begins with spectroscopy showing with scientific accuracy what the remotest planets are made of.

☆ ☆ ☆

For four years the Palomar telescope has been in use. It extended the frontier from 500 million light years, which was the range of the Mt. Wilson telescope, to a billion light years. What have the astronomers been finding? In this first four years they have found that man's knowledge is still pitifully small in relation to the infinity of space; millions of new whole systems—not just planets—like our Milky Way have come into the astronomer's ken. And in all this infinity no element has been found that is not found on the earth.

So man on his little fly speck at one far corner looks pretty puny. The words of the Prophet Isaiah with his magnificent scorn for the littleness of man sound like an echo from the Palomar mountaintop.

Yet if you look at it another way, there is in the very act of pushing back these farthest frontiers an amazing kind of courage. It is in the boldness, the presumption, of daring to look out across a distance that would be unimaginable if it did not exist. And when you hear these men talk about the future—about the 500 to 600 years of work still ahead mapping with the 200-inch telescope—you understand just how transitory are the conflicts of the moment down below.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Eisenhower-Rejected Pup Keeps His Chin Up

(Star Staff Photo)

BIFF (pup on right) and MAMIE, with STEVEN and KENT DIETEMEYER . . . for a canine publicity hound, an unusual post card . . .

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Presidential - elect - reject "Biff," the fawn colored six-weeks-old Boxer who was offered to Gen. Eisenhower by the Carl Deitemeyer family of 1900 So. 50th, is downright miffed.

Instead of himself, a sturdy family-loving pup, two—not just one—odd-looking dogs whose ears stand up like butterfly wings will be romping the White House grounds come January.

But "Biff" has plenty of consolation. Dozens of letters and phone calls have been pouring in wanting the pup that overnight crashed the headlines of the nation's newspapers.

And the smallest pup in the litter, "Mamie," is also there to console him.

☆ ☆ ☆

It was only a little more than a week ago that "Biff" got the sad word, a telegram from Augusta, Ga., saying "Gen. Eisenhower has asked me to thank you for your thoughtfulness in offering him your Boxer puppy, Biff. He sincerely regrets that he will be unable to accept it."

It was signed by Thomas E. Stephens, appointment secretary to the President-elect.

But messages from as far as New York, Massachusetts and Wisconsin, not to mention all parts of Nebraska, expressed the wish to own the popular Boxer.

The Deitemeyers think Biff is a new variety of publicity hound. But the photographs in Newsweek, New York Daily Mirror and other newspapers do not seem to faze him.

He still allows the five Deitemeyer children, Cheryl, 6; Kent, 4; Diann, 10; Kaye, 7; and Steven, 9, to pet and feed him.

☆ ☆ ☆

One wonders how famous this minor celebrity can get! One post card was addressed: Mr. Carl Deitemeyer, Canine (Eisenhower litter) owner, Lincoln, Neb.

Many persons would stay out of politics after the defeat he suffered, but not Biff. Instead, he is feeling out a certain president of the Young Republican Club in Queens County, N. Y., who is "quite interested" in owning him.

Deitemeyer, however, has put his foot in the proceedings and is offering the registered pup to the highest bidder.

The Holdrege Story

Holdrege, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Star is to be congratulated on an excellent job of newspaper reporting. The article on Holdrege in the feature section of last Sunday's paper was exceptionally well done and amazing to me, a lifelong resident, how the spirit of the town could be captured in just one week.

We naturally feel you couldn't have made a better selection than Holdrege to begin the new series.

ON BEING THANKFUL

Thanksgiving Day, said the young man next door, has lost its meaning and ought to be written off the calendar.

"What have we got to be thankful for?" he demanded. "And don't tell me about automobiles and television and electric lights, either! I mean, the world's in a mess, and everybody's out for the almighty dollar, and a young guy hasn't got anything to look forward to except maybe an atom bomb."

"Well, there are a lot of jobs around," I said defensively, remembering the time when there weren't.

"Yeah, jobs!" he retorted. "You get one, and you work hard and earn more and more money, and what happens? You pay more and more for what you buy, so you work harder still to earn more, and after while you're old, and you've got about what you started with! For that, we have Thanksgiving!"

☆ ☆ ☆

I almost reminded him that it would be a novelty indeed to hear of a man leaving this world with more than he brought into it, but thought better of it, and instead called my daughter, who was playing in the back yard.

"Gadget," I said, "what have you got to be thankful for?"

She is 11, and rowdy as a cowpuncher in town on Saturday night. She pushed the hair out of her eyes and wiped a patch of soot so that it covered her cheek instead of just her chin. She said, "Well, we had all the things for dinner that I like."

"What else, though? Important things, I mean."

"Eating is kinda important," she objected. "But anyway, I've got Judy and Jimmy and Marsha and Mary Rose to play with, and a lot of others, and that's nice, because it would be pretty lonesome, not having anybody to play with —"

"Yes?"

"And, well — I'm thankful because mother let the hem down on my blue skirt, and because we've got a house to live in, and because nobody's sick, and sometimes I'm thankful when it rains, because I like to watch the rain, and then sometimes when it doesn't rain, because then it's a nice day . ."

☆ ☆ ☆

"But look honey," I interrupted, "those are all such little things. Isn't there anything big — you know, something really important?"

"Gosh, daddy," she said, frowning and not exactly understanding this adult foolishness, "important things can't make you any happier'n little things, can they? I've just got a lot of little things to be thankful for, but I couldn't be any thankfuller. Why aren't little things important, daddy?"

"Honey," I said, "they are!" And I rumpled her hair still more, and squeezed her, and decided that I, too, had some little things to be thankful for.

"AT THE CROSSROADS OF LINCOLN"

Tiny Baby, 85-Year-Old Woman Among 50 Farm Guests

Motorists, stranded along highways around Lincoln Tuesday night, were finally arriving at their homes throughout the day Wednesday, with many stories of unusual experiences.

Among the most unusual was the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Black, 3615 So. 37th. The Blacks left Offutt Air Force Base at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, and during the next five hours struggled to get to Lincoln. Finally they were hopelessly stalled near the Jesse Westlake farm, two miles east of Eagle.

Along with 50 other persons, the Blacks left their car to spend the night at the Westlake home. Included in the group were a couple from Ontario with their 85-year-old mother, and a family from Illinois with a seven-month-old baby.

Power Off

A power cutoff plunged the Westlake home into darkness early Tuesday night, and the only heat available was a small range in the basement. "Guests" of the Westlakes organized into squads to take care of the cob-carrying detail to keep the range burning.

The matter of food was settled rather easily, too. During the storm Westlake tramped a half-mile through the snow to borrow some coffee, and early Wednesday morning hiked a mile and a half to a filling station to buy seven loaves of bread.

The coffee and bread, along with 12 dozen eggs the Westlakes had ready for shipment, provided nourishment for all hands.

One Man Ill

One of the men among the stranded travelers was ill, and was put to bed. The 85-year-old Canadian woman, after spending the night in a station wagon was finally carried into the house on a chair.

Early Wednesday morning Westlake started his tractor and began pulling stalled cars back on the road. About 40 cars were stuck in a small valley near his farm. Late Wednesday afternoon about 50 cars, whose drivers had not given up the fight, followed a State Safety Patrol car around and through the six foot deep drifts and continued to their destination.

After he finally reached his home late Wednesday, Black said many cars were still stalled along the road.

STORM AFTERMATH—Stranded cars, stalled during Tuesday night's blizzard, presented a problem to street officials Wednesday. These cars got jumbled up in the overpowering snow drifts at 50th and O. An estimated 40 cars were stranded between 38th and 50th and O. (Star Photo.)

Kansas Railroad Crew Helps In Evacuation

OMAHA (AP)—Railroad men did some improvising to evacuate motorists and bus passengers in Kansas after snow blocked highways between Manhattan and Junction City.

A local train crew at Manhattan, using a caboose and two box cars, left Manhattan at 1:05 a.m., went to the vicinity of East Funston and returned with 66 persons.

The report of the incident was received at Union Pacific headquarters from Kansas City.

Alaska Rescue Teams Speed To Wreckage

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (INS)—Rescue planes carrying paramedic teams took off at daybreak Wednesday, returning to the location of possible wreckage of a Globemaster, lost since Saturday with 52 servicemen aboard.

Broken remnants of an aircraft were signted Tuesday in remote mountains near Whittner, 75 miles south of Anchorage, destination of the C-124 which vanished Saturday night.

Seach control officers of the 10th Rescue Squadron at Elmendorf Air Force Base stressed that the wreckage might prove to be remains of one of three planes.

These are the Globemaster, lost on a flight from McChord Air Force Base, Wash.; a jet fighter missing more than a month, and a C-119 that crashed 11 days ago with 20 persons aboard.

Little hope is held for the survival of any aboard the lost planes.

L.A. 'Grandma' Pulls Her 3rd Bank Holdup

LOS ANGELES (INS)—A sweet-faced old lady—notorious as Los Angeles' "grandmother bandit"—held up her third bank in little more than a month Wednesday.

The grandma bandit struck for the third time at the Western Avenue Branch of the Citizens National Bank, making off with $500.

The gun-toting grandma bandit marched into the bank during the lunch hour crowd, approached the window of teller Josephine Rubin and shoved a note into the cage which read:

"I have a gun and I'm not afraid to use it. Put 10, 20 and 100 dollar bills in this sack."

The bandit then marched out and entered a waiting cab.

Only 10 Miles Apart, Father, Son Correspond

The father is a warrant officer with the corps headquarters in Korea and the son a combat infantryman with the Seventh Infantry Division.

Said the son:

"When my dad was first assigned to corps headquarters I used to visit him. Now there is too much work and too little time."

Subversive Use Of Foundation Funds Alleged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Cox (D-Ga) said Owen Lattimore, former State Department adviser, obtained large sums of money from the multimillion-dollar Rockefeller Foundation and the money was used "for subversive purposes."

The Georgia legislator, chairman of a special House inquiry committee, also said the Rockefeller Foundation and other tax-exempt groups made "a great number of grants" to persons disloyal to the United States.

In New York, Dean Rusk, president of the Rockefeller Foundation, commented:

"The Rockefeller Foundation has reported the facts on these grants to the Cox committee in our reply to the questionnaire sent us by the committee.

Any Cases

"We are prepared to discuss any cases fully when we go before the committees."

Cox's statement about foundation grants to disloyal persons drew a quick rebuttal from Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, associate director of the Ford Foundation, who told the committee:

"I am perfectly certain that no major foundation has ever consciously gone into anything that would weaken the American system."

The House group is investigating whether any tax-free organizations have used their huge financial resources to aid un-American or subversive activities.

'Yellow-Legged' Chickens Planned By Harry Truman

WASHINGTON (INS)— The man said he's going to raise "yellow-legged chickens" and that after Jan. 20 the address will be H. S. Truman, Esq., RFD, Independence, Mo.

President Truman talked about his back-to-the-farm plans in a breezy discussion with editors of the nation's business papers, who visited him at the White House.

Somewhat wistfully, he made it plain that he wants to get away from the striped pants, the red tape, and the complex problems of Washington just as soon as he can turn over the world's toughest job to President - elect Eisenhower.

Reared On Farm

Mr. Truman said he didn't want to lose touch with the editors "because I'm going back to the farm and I may be able to give you some yellow-legged chicks, sometimes, from that part of the world."

The President grew up on the Missouri farm to which he referred so nostalgically. His late mother once said that he could plow a straighter furrow than any man she ever saw.

The Chief Executive's mood became more serious when he talked about the situation his successor must meet. He recalled that he had talked to the editors a year ago and observed:

"We're still faced with the same problems and probably will be faced with them for quite some time."

He added: "Our entire effort is, of course, to win the cold war and get peace in the world."

Automatic Paint Mixer

NEW YORK (AP)—A new push button device mixes paints to the precise color of a sample in less than 90 seconds. The mechanism, known as the automatic color carousel, mixes paint to match a selected color chip, putting into a container just the right amount of various colors to match the original.

The machine takes about half the space of an office desk. It stores specially formulated liquid colors in containers housed in a varicolored revolving drum atop its counter-high base and measures them with laboratory accuracy into cans of base paints, enamels or stains.

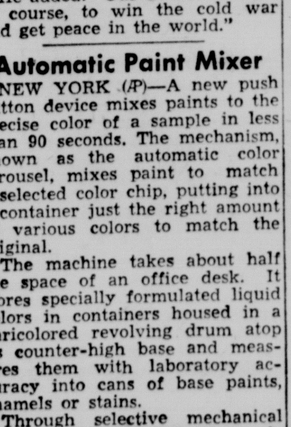

Through selective mechanical and electronic controls, code numbers on the color chips are transferred by dial settings into the matching color in flat, semi-gloss, gloss or deep-tone wall paint, house paint, floor enamel, decorative enamel or pigmented stain. The device was developed by Standard-Toch Chemicals Inc.

Artificial Grain Drying Here To Stay, NU Professor Says

DR. WHITNEY . . . Artificial grain drying becoming popular.

Artificial grain drying in Nebraska is here to stay, Dr. Ramey C. Whitney, University of Nebraska economics professor, believes.

The activity was introduced in the state eight years ago.

And already Nebraska farmers and grain men have invested more than a million dollars in grain drying equipment and the trend is still upward. This does not include the investments of terminal elevators.

Even a dry fall such as Nebraska has exeperienced this year will not remove the need for artificial grain drying, Dr. Whitney says. Many abandoned winter wheat fields, he points out, will always be resown to spring grains which at harvest can be helped by drying to take out moisture and facilitate removal of weedy materials.

Findings Published

Besides being an economics professor, Dr. Whitney has done some wheat farming and three years ago he began a study to find out what role artificial grain drying is playing on the farm and in country elevators.

His findigs are now off the press in an 80-page booklet, Business Research Bulletin No. 55, "Artificial Grain Drying in Nebraska." It is believed to be the only comprehensive grain drying study in the U.S.

In general, the chief benefit from artificial grain drying is earlier harvests, Dr. Whitney believes. Nebraska farmers have always faced the problem of getting their corn out as soon as possible after maturity to save loss from wet weather and wind. Wheat farmers, too, find early harvests desirable to reduce the risk of hail losses and facilitate the preparation of seed beds for succeeding crops.

Artificial drying of grain, of course, allows earlier safe storage in less space. More corn is dried in Nebraska than any other grain. It runs three to one over wheat, the second contender. The process, however, has also been used to a limited extent on such grains as oats, barley and grain sorghums.

In 1950 country elevators dried about 88 per cent of the approximate 11 million bushels of grain dried in the state. This, Dr. Whitney indicates, implies a new business opportunity for the state, provided commercial driers are located in areas where at least 80,000 bushels of grain are produced and 3 per cent of the total offered for drying.

Using this yard stick, Dr. Whitney says the following counties are "desirable areas" promising profitable operation of drying equipment: Sarpy, Dixon, Cass, Merrick, Hall, Nemaha, Lancaster, Richardson, Pierce, Nance, Johnson, and Knox.

Assuming that the practice of drying continues to increase to a point where 5 rather than 3 per cent of the grain would be dried, Dr. Whitney would add these counties to the list: Nickolls, Pawnee, Antelope, Webster, Harlan, Howard, Franklin, Gosper, Furnas, Deuel and Sherman.

In answer to the question of "How much does it cost to dry grain?" Dr. Whitney's answer is, "That depends." It depends on whether the grain is dried in the farm granary with unheated, or heated air, by a "batch" drier, or by country elevator equipment. It also depends upon how much grain is dried and upon the moisture content.

Costs Given

Drying from 1,000 to 5,000 bushels with unheated air in a farm crib usually runs from 7.4 to 3.8 cents per bushel. With heat, the cost runs from 8.5 to about 3.6 cents for from 1,000 to 7,000 bushels. In country elevators, drying costs vary greatly with the amount of grain dried. If not more 20,000 bushels were dried, it might run 9.3 cents per bushel, but probably would drop to about 2.65 cents if the total dried was 100,000 bushels.

Speaking of the wheat harvest, Dr. Whitney said:

"Taking everything into consideration it is likely that the wheat harvest, during normal years, could be completed on the average five days earlier with the use of grain driers. Probably savings from hail losses alone during these five days approximates one cent per bushel of wheat in many areas of western Nebraska. Other savings would be greater.

"It appears that artificial drying in Nebraska is not a temporary expedient (for wet years) but is here to stay."

Trusties 'Mine' Lead

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — This seacoast city, far from any ore deposits, nonetheless has a thriving lead "mine."

The miners are jail trusties who periodically dig up bullets fired into dirt bunkers behind targets on the police pistol club range.

The metal is melted down and molded into new slugs which are fed into an automatic reloader. The police department figures its "mine" saves $22 per hundred pounds of lead recovered.

Explosion Of Transportable H-Bomb Hinted

WASHINGTON (INS)—A top defense spokesman implied that the hydrogen "device" exploded in the awesome blast at Eniwetok this month was an air-transportable H-bomb or its forerunner.

The official said that the test detonation has sent Pentagon experts into intensive action on how best to use the H-bomb, which could destroy whole cities in a flash.

The spokesman guardedly used the word "device" in referring to the mid-Pacific test but made it plain that a giant step was taken in the nation's development of mankind's most terrifying weapon.

He said the U.S. joint chiefs of staff and other executive branches of the military establishment are studying to determine how the H-bomb can be used and how it will affect the world's strategic picture.

Asked whether he thought the H-bomb would bring "revolutionary changes in the strategic picture in the next five years," the spokesman replied:

"I expect there will be a great many changes due to progress in new weapons, including progress in thermonuclear (hydrogen) weapons."

Asked whether the Pentagon studies had been started "before or after the hydrogen explosion about Nov. 1," he replied that they have been launched since that date.

Tax Head Named For New Hawaii, Two-State District

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Internal Revenue Bureau named Stewart eBrkshire of San Francisco to supervise tax collection work in the new California-Nevada-Hawaii revenue district with headquarters in Los Angeles.

In his new job, Berkshire will be assisted by four directors selected by civil service, who are replacing the former collectors of internal revenue.

They are: Glen T. Jamison, director at San Francisco; Robert A. Riddell, acting director at Los Angeles; Roland W. Wise, acting director at Reno, Nev., and Stanley V. McKenney, director at Honolulu.

Berkshire, who is 61, has served with the Treasury Department since 1932, holding top positions in the tax agency's Washington headquarters before taking his present job as head of the Pacific division of the appellate staff in San Francisco.

Catholic Leaders Believe Red Persecution Greatest

WASHINGTON (INS)—Catholic archbishops and bishops of the U. S. declared Wednesday that more men and women have been victims of religious persecution under Communism than any other regime in history.

Without mentioning Communism by name, the churchmen said two cardinals (Mindszenty of Hungary and Tien of China) 130 bishops, tens of thousands of priests and millions of Catholic laymen have been imprisoned, tortured or slain by what they called "the hosts of atheistic materialism."

The high-ranking clergymen made their statement in a resolution issued by the National Catholic Welfare Conference in Washington. They called upon U. S. Catholics for "intercession and prayer that God in his loving providence may shorten these days of trial and restore peace and tranquility to the Church and to the world.

The archbishops and bishops said Catholics of all ranks are first on the Communists' lists of proscription because the Church is the most powerful defender against what they termed "the new barbarism."

They declared: "It is our prayer that the lesson of our contemporary martyrs and confessors be not lost on a distraught world..."

Cardinal Mindszenty, jailed by a Communist court, is still imprisoned in Hungary and Cardinal Tien is in the hands of the Chinese Reds. In addition, Archbishop Stepinac was jailed for about two years by the Communist Yugoslav government and continues under virtual house arrest in his home village.

Five Motor Vehicle Dealers' Licenses RevokedAtHearing

Half of the 10 complaints heard by the Motor vehicle dealers' licensing board during a two day session were dismissed and Administrator Harold Aitken revoked licenses of the other five. Nineteen were not heard due to the storm keeping dealers from reaching Lincoln.

Northside Motors, Falls City, was revoked on charges of failure to display their license.

Callan Hardware & Implement Co., Odell, and Snyder Implement Co., Ainsworth, were given 31 day license revocations starting Dec. 1 on charges of failure to give proper invoices. Sam Way's K. F. Motors, Lexington, was given a one day revocation of license on the same charge.

License of W. R. Harvey, Arthur, was revoked for 10 days on charges of failure to display his license.

The board will reconvene at a later date to hear the balance of the charges brought against dealers.

Airman Denies He Offered To Sell Secrets

TOKYO (Thursday)—(INS)—An American Air Force sergeant accused of trying to sell one of his country's closely guarded military secrets to the Communists in Korea prepared Wednesday to fight to clear his name.

S/Sgt. Guiseppe Cascio, 34, of Tucson, Ariz., and Poughkeepsie, N. Y., made the announcement through Raymond N. Bushell, a civilian lawyer the sergeant hired to defend him.

Bushell said Cascio will plead not guilty to the charge that he "offered for sale" to the Communists secret test data on the improved F-86-E Sabrejet. Bushell also advised Cascio to plead not guilty to 16 counts of blackmarket dealings in American military currency.

Held Near Exeter

Cascio is held behind barbed wire in a barracks stockade at Johnson Air Force Base near Tokyo. Bushell said he visits him frequently and that Cascio's bearing "is very soldierly."

(Meanwhile Far East Air Force headquarters ordered a rigid blackout on information about Cascio. Correspondents visiting th American Air Base where Cascio was held were kept under constant surveillance. Airmen at the base were ordered "not to talk" about the prisoner.)

The maximum sentence on the major charge would be life imprisonment.

Bushell said he expects the trial to begin in the near future, probably in Korea where witnesses are readily available.

Bushell said he expects Cascio will eat a full Thanksgiving turkey dinner with other prisoners. He stressed that he is in "pre-trial" confinement only and has freedom of movement within the guarded stockade area but is not allowed outside.

5 Sisters Together For First Reunion In Past 40 Years

When circumstances brought together four out of five sisters who had not been all together since childhood, the other sister in Los Angeles was telephoned and the five gathered in Lincoln for the first reunion in 40 years.

Two sisters, Mrs. Ninon McClung of Burwell and Mrs. Olive Korff of Santa Monica, Calif., had been visiting Mrs. Susan E. Norris of 2511 T, when the fourth sister, Miss Maude Wilson of Corvallis, Ore., arrived in Lincoln from a business trip in Colorado. Miss Wilson was formerly a member of the University of Nebraska faculty. Since four were already here, they decided to call the remaining sister, Mrs. Myrtle Mikkelson in Los Angeles, who soon joined them.

The last reunion was at the home of their parents, Prof. and Mrs. A. K. Wilson, at 1905 So. 16th.

Death Penalty Asked For 14 In Purge Trial

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist government Wednesday demanded a sentence of death by hanging for 14 former leading Communists who for a week have poured out long and fantastic confessions of crimes against Communism and the Soviet Union.

Sentences are expected to be imposed in Prague Thursday on Rudolf Slansky, former Moscow favorite and secretary general of the Czechoslovak Communist party; Vlado Clementis, former foreign minister; and 12 others. All but three of the defendants are Jews.

The strong anti-Semitic tone of the trial—all were accused of plotting with Israel and Zionist "capitalists"—had its echo in a report from a highly reliable source that open anti-Jewish attacks have erupted in Bratislavia, Slovakia. Nai-like chalked signs saying "Jews," or "Jews live here" were reported smeared on the doors of Jewish homes there.

When the Jews complained to police, the informant said, they were told that if they were really workers for the state they had nothing to worry about and there was no need to remove the signs.

Extreme Penalty

The Prague radio announced the prosecution had completed its summary against the 14 accused of treason, sabotage, spying and plotting against the state. Chief Prosecutor Dr. Josef Urvalek demanded the extreme penalty for all.

At noon the 14 accused stood before the five-judge court and heard testimony of state experts that the group headed by Slansky and Clementis caused billions of crowns worth of damage to the Czechoslovak Communist economy.

A planning expert said the group made damaging investments in industry and agriculture. A foreign trade expert said the group supported trade with the West and undermined trade with the USSR and the East. Finance, and military experts also testified against the 14.

Observers here said the government of President Klement Gottwald was using the trial as a means of presenting scapegoats to the public for the country's economic woes under the Communists.

U.S. Crowns 23rd Jet Ace

SEOUL (AP) — The U. S. Air Force crowned its 23rd jet ace Thursday—a Texan who went in to rescue a buddy and shot down his fifth MIG with gunsights that weren't working.

The 23rd ace made his kill last Saturday. The Fifth Air Force did not announce it until Thanksgiving Eve, after studying film from his gun camera.

The new ace is Lt. Cecil G. Foster, 27, of San Antonio, Tex.

Foster and his wingman—Lt. Edmond G. Hepner of Selma, Okla. had run almost out of fuel in four head-on passes with four Communist MIGs, and had headed for home with the Red jets chasing them.

The Communist planes started firing at Hepner.

"I did a roll over the first MIG and latched onto the second one who had already moved in behind Hepner," Foster said. "My sight was out, and I had to fire by tracers."

Foster emptied his guns at 400 feet, and the MIG pilot bailed out. The two Americans had just enough fuel to get back to base.

3 Omahans Injured When Fire Forces Them To Jump

OMAHA (AP) — Three persons were injured early Wednesday when a raging fire drove them to jump from the second floor of a building housing three apartments and some small business places here.

A fireman, Robert Rockwell, Omaha, also was injured when the second floor collapsed.

All four were hospitalized at Douglas County Hospital.

The fire broke out at 1204½ No. 24th street during a raging blizzard. Fire Chief Clyde Dunn said the cause could not immediately be determined.

The fire-fighting effort left a thick layer of ice and slush in the area. Traffic was blocked off.

Most seriously injured was Otilla Tatum, about 60, who suffered possible head and back injuries and a fractured collarbone.

Also injured, and in fair condition at a hospital later, were Loretta Kinsey, who suffered a fractured right leg, and her husband, R. Luther Kinsey, who had a possible neck injury.

Fireman Rockwell suffered a possible back injury.

The building, described by Chief Dunn as a total loss, housed apartments on the second floor and a grocery and second hand furniture store on the ground floor.

Dunn said the building was heated with stoves and said one of these might have started the fire.

Eight fire companies answered the two alarms.

Wanted Man Asks Wrong Party To Change Car's Looks

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—James Harper made a mistake when he drove into a garage here and asked for a paint job and a motor number change.

Garagemen notified the police.

But Harper, who officers said is wanted in at least two states, wasn't easy to catch.

A tip to Sidney police Saturday resulted in an hour's pursuit of the man and the car in the city. Harper, 36, was arrested a short time later at a cafe in Big Springs by a Nebraska Safety Patrol officer.

The license plate on the car driven by Harper was taken in Kansas months ago. The car was reported missing at Murray, Utah, on March 5, 1952, officers said.

Lt. Leo Knudtson criminal investigator for the Nebraska Safety Patrol, said Harper is wanted in several places in Texas and in Utah.

Harper has signed a waiver of extradition. Officials said he will be taken to Alice, Tex., where a charge of felonious swindle awaits him.

112 Dodge County Youths Hold Sixth Government Day

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—The sixth annual County Government Day attracted 112 Dodge County youths to Fremont Tuesday.

The program of introducing high school students to the actual workings of county government was originated by Chief Justice Robert Simmons of the Nebraska Supreme Court, who addressed the group Tuesday.

The answer to the question: Will we keep our free government? lies in programs such as the County Government Day, Justice Simmons said.

"Tell me the ideals, hopes and plans of the young people in the schools today and I will tell you what kind of nation and state we will have 25 years from now," he said.

Justice Simmons also reviewed his trip to the Far East last summer.

Kenesaw Blizzard Baby Doing Fine

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—A son born early Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Sheets, Kenesaw farm folks qualifies as something of a "blizzard baby."

The child was born a half hour after the parents arrived at the James Kindig home 10 miles west of Hastings at 3 a.m.

The parents had left home at 1 a.m. for Mary Lanning Memorial Hospital in Hastings and were stranded by the storm.

Dr. Russell McIntire, Kenesaw, arrived a half hour before the baby was born.

A snowplow later cleared the way to Hastings and mother and child arrived at the hospital by ambulance at 9:45 a.m. Both were reported doing fine.

Lincoln Citizens Are Thankful For Many Things

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Is the spirit of Thanksgiving dead?

With the world split between two ideologies, a war in Korea killing Nebraska boys, and the troubles of the high cost of living the cynics might say, "Be thankful for what?"

Raymond Cornish

But to show the readers of The Lincoln Star that Lincoln people retain a Thanksgiving spirit, a small sample of its citizenry expresses here their thoughts of home, country, friends and family ties.

Charles Colman

Mrs. Colman

L. A. Pense

Janice Hinds

Phillip Byron

Phyllis Chubbuck

Raymond Cornish, 11, 914 No. 10th, in the fifth grade at Hayward School, is thankful this Thanksgiving "for my friends and home and my cat, "Tiny."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Colman, 1446 S, the former a teacher of French at the University of Nebraska, are thankful for "our four healthy children, and a house to live in." They are also thankful that they are "in Lincoln and not outside stranded on a highway." Returning from a recent visit to the grocery store they are thankful that "prices are not any higher than they are."

Barber L. A. Pense, 3008 Holdrege, is thankful this Thanksgiving that "it didn't snow 14 feet instead of more than four inches in Lincoln."

Janice Hinds, 19, 6726 Morrill, who is employed by Western Electric as a wire girl, is thankful "because this is a free country and I have a chance to hold a good job and make good money."

"I am thankful for so many things," she summed up.

Philip Byron, 1645 So. 20th, Lincoln businessman, said he is thankful this Thanksgiving for "this wonderful snow and moisture we need so much."

He is also thankful for the new administration which he believes will "settle the war and balance the budget."

Phyllis Chubbuck, 20, 1909 G, junior majoring in journalism at the University of Nebraska, is thankful for "living in Lincoln and not being snowbound so I cannot be home for Thanksgiving."

"I am also thankful that our election is over and it turned out as well as it did."

First Thanksgiving Proclamation

The following is the text of the first Thanksgiving proclamation, issued by George Washington in 1789:

"Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor; and whereas both Houses of Congress have, by their joint Committee, requested me to recommend to the people of the United States a day of Public Thanksgiving and Prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness:

"Now therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November (1789) next, to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being, who is the Beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country, previous to their becoming a nation; for the signal and manifold mercies, and the favorable interpositions of His providence, in the course and conclusion of the late war; for the great degree of tranquility, union, and plenty, which we have since enjoyed; for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish Constitutions of Government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national one now lately instituted; for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed, and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and in general, for all the great and various favors, which he has been pleased to confer upon us.

And, also, that we may then unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of Nations, and beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions; to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually, to render our National Government a blessing to all the people, by constantly being a government of wise, just and constitutional laws, discreetly and faithfully executed and obeyed; to protect and guide all sovereigns and nations (especially such as have shown kindness to us), and to bless them with good governments, peace and concord; to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science, among them and us; and, generally, to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows to be the best.

"G. WASHINGTON, President."

Storm Victim Found Dead In Rail Yards

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP)—A possible victim of the snowstorm was found dead in an unheated scale house in the Chicago and Great Western railroad yards here Wednesday.

He was tentatively identified as Alfred O. Houle, about 60, a transient railroad worker. His last known address was Minneapolis, Minn., and County Coroner Henry Meyer said a time slip in his pocket indicated he was last employed by the C. & G. W. at Oelwein, Ia.

Railroad workers found the body early Wednesday morning and emergency crewmen said he had been dead for several hours.

Meyer said death was due to natural causes but the exact nature could not be determined until an autopsy is performed.

15 Persons Stranded At Farm East Of Hastings

HASTINGS (AP)—Seven cars carrying 15 persons were stranded at the Gene Holloran home 4½ miles east of Hastings on Highway 6 during the night.

Most of the motorists were employees of the Hastings Naval Ammunition depot.

Said Mrs. Holloran: "I felt very sorry for them, for they were hungry and I didn't have enough breakfast to go around, but the snowplows came and the way was cleared for them to get on their way."

Genuchi Baby Dies

Funeral services are pending for Robert J. Genuchi, 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth O. Genuchi of 4216 Sumner, who died Tuesday at Rochester, Minn.

Surviving are his parents.

Chandler Says He Has Offer Of 'High' Air Defense Post

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Speed Chandler, veteran Air Force test pilot and prominent in the automotive industry for many years, said Wednesday that he has been approached for a "pretty high up" position in the air arm of the Defense Department next January.

The retired Air Force major said that he was contacted by friends of Charles E. Wilson who will be President-elect Eisenhower's secretary of defense.

Chandler said that he reported that he was interested in a Washington position where his abilities would be needed.

Chandler currently is field executive for the Kaiser-Fraser Corp. in Southern California. He has 33 years of flying experience and during World War II served as the air transport command's chief test pilot. His automotive background includes executive positions with Ford, General Motors and Packard.

Christmas Seal Sale Returns Reach $7,136

The tenth day of the Christmas Seal Sale boosted returns to $7,136 or 38 per cent of the $18,500 raised last year, Dr. O. V. Calhoun, president of the Lancaster County Tuberculosis Association reported.

The seal sale campaign which is the sole support of the organization, opened November 17, and will continue until Christmas.

"The secret to the success of the Christmas Seal educational and fund raising campaign," Dr. Calhoun said, "lies in the degree to which the people learn the facts about tuberculosis from the Christmas seal letter, newspaper and radio publicity, and their participation in the use of Christmas Seals on their December letters and packages. The great strides which have been made in the control of tuberculosis in the present century have largely come about through education of the people, for TB which is an infectious disease, can be prevented through knowledge."

"AT THE CROSSROADS OF LINCOLN"

Bids Asked On $1,120,000 Highway Work

DeWitt To Wilber Road Is Included

The state highway department is requesting bids on Dec. 18 on an estimated $1,120,000 of construction including the remaining six truck load weighing stations authorized by the legislature, State Engineer Harold L. Aitken said Wednesday.

Previous bids on two of the stations at Waverly and Hebron were rejected as too high at a letting Oct. 9. Other stations on which bids are being asked are near Columbus, Northport, O'Neill and Culbertson.

Relocation of No. 82

The long awaited reconstruction and relocation of No. 82 between DeWitt and Wilber will start with bids on grading and culverts. The relocation will eliminate crossing of Turkey Creek. The grading will raise the grade, subject to flooding, and widen it to 28 feet.

The new entrance to DeWitt from the north will be on a diagonal instead of the present route. Work will be from the south city limits of Wilber to the west limits of DeWitt.

The 4.3 miles of bituminous mat surfacing on Route No. 51 between Bancroft and U. S. 77 which has been twice rejected because bids were too high is again on the list. It is a federal aid project and would complete the gap in the 12 mile outlet for residents of the Pender area.

Guard rail bids are being asked on No. 91 between Leigh and U. S. 275, between Decatur and Winnebago on U. S. 73E, Spencer and O'Neill on U. S. 281 and between Alma and Franklin on No. 3 and Franklin and the state line on No. 10.

Omaha Bids Requested

First bids are being asked on Omaha's proposed outer drive which has been taken over by the county and designated a secondary road. Bids are asked for abutments and piers for a viaduct which will be 100 per cent federal funds.

Plans call for asking for bids on the superstructure in the spring and grading and paving later in the summer for completion in 1954.

Custer and Valley Counties are matching federal funds for construction of a bridge across the Loup River between Comstock and Arcadia and three-tenths of a mile of grading and gravel with culverts.

Work On No. 61

Grant and Arthur Counties are contributing one-fourth of the cost of 20 miles of grading, culverts and bituminous sand surfacing between Hyannis and Arthur. It will complete improvement of No. 61 a north-south road.

The state will pay one-fourth of the cost and federal aid will provide the balance.

The estimated sharing of costs is $80,000 federal aid funds, $530,000 federal secondary funds, $130 county funds and $380,000 state funds.

BENKELMAN FIRE LOSS HEAVY—This Benkelman appliance store, one of three business houses in that western Nebraska community destroyed by flames early this week, is shown at the height of the blaze. A pool hall and hotel were also lost. Albert Sigwing and H. H. Sigwing were owners of the appliance store which also housed a photo studio. Furnishings in the store were moved to safety, but those in the studio were destroyed. (Photo Special to The Star.)

NU Dormitories Remain Open For Stranded Students

Vacations for some 1,000 University of Nebraska students were cut short—and a few completely cancelled—this week as weather conditions forced them to remain in Lincoln.

Many of the students who were snowbound because of bus and plane cancellations or road conditions Tuesday night were able to leave for homes Wednesday. Nevertheless, several organized houses, the Residence Halls for Men and Residence Halls for Women will remain open to house the sprinkling of students unable to leave Lincoln.

Among those students forced to remain on campus Tuesday night were an estimated 822 male students, 53 at the Residence Halls for Women besides coeds living at organized houses.

Yield Up 30 Bushels On Sprayed Corn Plots

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb.—There was a difference of 30 bushels of corn per acre on plots sprayed with benzene hexachloride of chlordane and those not treated on the Bill Whipple farm near here.

County Agent A. H. DeLong said the results were from a series of check plots. The chemicals were applied before planting last spring. The chemicals were applied at these rates: Chlordane, one pound per acre, and benzene hexachloride, a half pound per acre. There was no difference in the results with the two chemicals.

Stalks in the check plots were twisted and across the row while those in the sprayed plots stood erect.

State's Potato Goal Same As '52 Acreage

U.S. Mark Increased By 3 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department Wednesday set 1953 production goals calling for an increase of three per cent in the white potato crop.

The white potato goal was put at 359 million bushels compared with this year's indicated crop of 349 million bushels.

Nebraska's goal is exactly the same figure as this year's average, 34,000 bushels.

Growers will be free, however to grow any quantity they desire because the goal is merely advisory. Potatoes are not subject to government production controls or price supports.

The department announced advistory acreage planting goals of 1,443,000 acres for white potatoes. This would be an increase of 5,000 acres over this year's acreage.

It's A Family Day

IT'S A GOOD thing we didn't live in the days of the Scottish Stuarts when one's proximity to the fire and the only source of heat in the drafty medieval halls (so we have read) was determined by one's titled rank —or lack of it. One thing, certainly, we Americans can be thankful for, especially in Nebraska's temperamental weather, is central heating—to say nothing of the turkey, cranberry sauce and the rest of the fixin's.

Wedding On Wednesday

Autumn-toned chrysanthemums decorated the altar and chancel of Grace Lutheran church for the Wednesday evening, November 26, marriage of Miss Mildred I. Jansen, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Goldstein, to Emil L. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jones of Murray, Iowa, which was solemnized at 7:30 o'clock by Dr. Leland H. Lesher.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Guy Vehrs sang "Because," and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Gwen Fisher, organist. Mrs. Fisher also played the wedding music.

Miss Betty Ann Goldstein attended her cousin as maid of honor and was frocked in gold-toned Chantilly lace and satin. A low neckline and cap sleeves accented the fitted bodice of lace over satin, and winged panels of pleated tulle trimmed the full satin skirt. Frocked identically in the American Beauty shade were the bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Costello, Miss Eileen Motz and Miss Joyce Fruide. The attendants all carried pannier bouquets of chrysanthemums shading from antique gold to deep green tints. Frocked in yellow taffeta was the flower girl, Miss Diana Wieners, and ringbearer was Donald Janssen.

The bride wore for her wedding a gown of traditional white satin and Chantilly lace. Petals of satin applique framed the low rounded neckline of the lace bodice, which was completed by long lace sleeves, and the flaring skirt of satin tapered into a train. A coronet of pearlized blossoms held her lace-edged veil of illusion, and she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Feathered white carnations, tufted with white lacelon and centered with a lavender orchid, fashioned her crescent bouquet.

MRS. EMIL L. JONES

Serving Mr. Jones as best man was Leland B. Wilson of Council Bluffs, Iowa, and the ushers were Don Papian and Harold Osting, both of Des Moines, Iowa.

A reception for one hundred fifty guests was held in the parlors of the church, after which the couple left for a trip to Denver, Colo. For her traveling costume, the bride wore a navy and gray checked suit with navy accessories.

Mr. Jones and his bride, who is a member of Beta Sigma Phi business sorority, will make their home in Lincoln.

Bride At Holy Trinity

MRS. CHESTER SINGER JR.

At an 8 o'clock ceremony solemnized Wednesday evening, November 26, Miss Suzanne Marshall, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James B. Marshall, became the bride of Chester Francis Singer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Francis Singer. White chrysanthemums and woodwardia appointed the altar of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal, and pedestal arrangements of the blossoms, and lighted white candles in seven-branched candelabra decorated the chancel for the service, the lines of which were read by the Rev. David Gracey.

Tall white candles swagged with woodwardia, which marked the pews of the central aisle, were lighted by Miss Linda Lee Heilig, niece of the bride, and Miss Joyce Brigham, cousin of the bride, as the two hundred guests assembled. A prelude of organ music was presented by Dorsey Baird, who also played the wedding music.

Miss Sandra Singer, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and appeared in a gown of emerald green taffeta fashioned in the Empire mode. The decollete bodice was covered by a brief bolero designed with a softly rolled collar and bracelet-length sleeves, and the skirt flared into crisp fullness. Wearing identical frocks in the chartreuse shade were the bridesmaids, Miss Janet McMeekin and Mrs. Charles F. Smith. The attendants wore brimmed caps of frock-toned taffeta and carried modern bouquets of autumn-tinted Fujii chrysanthemums and croton leaves.

Ivory-toned bridal satin fashioned the bride's gown which was designed, in the princess mode, with a long molded bodice. Soft folds of nylon tulle edged the portrait neckline and the tulle was repeated at the wrists of the long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Beneath a narrow piping of satin, the skirt widened into extreme fullness and tapered into a train. Seed pearls patterned the satin calot which held her veil of English silk illusion, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and white orchids. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Chester F. Singer served his son as best man, and seating the guests were Gregory Kallos, Gordon G. Pejsar, D. James McCabe and Elmer Seale.

A reception was held in the church undercroft, after which Mr. Singer and his bride left for a wedding trip to the Broadmoor, Colorado Springs, Colo. Mrs. Singer wore for traveling a pearl gray flannel suit with a scarlet topcoat, and gray and navy accessories. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Singer will reside in Lincoln where the bridegroom is attending the University of Nebraska college of dentistry.

A former student at the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi, the bride is a member of the Lincoln public schools faculty.

Minerva's Mail

At last I am getting around to answering Teen Ager's letter. If you remember, her problem involved the wearing of high heeled shoes and lipstick of which her mother disapproved.

I would hesitate to say either that you should or should not wear heels and lipstick, Teen Ager. It depends a great deal on you and how old you are for your age. If you are old enough to look well in them and don't appear to be a little girl dressed up in your mother's shoes and cosmetics, I would grant my approval. On the other hand, if your actions are still young, if you are not old enough to accept responsibility, etc., I would suggest that you wait.

Since your mother does not approve of either high heels or lipstick for you, I would wait for a year, at least, as your mother suggests. I'm sure you must get tired of the trite expression, "Mother knows best," but in most cases it is true. Wait, Teen Ager, to wear your high heels and lipstick. Although you may not realize it now, you will be glad you waited when you are older.

It was also announced that organizations planning conducted tours during the Nebraska Art Association's annual show next March should make reservations early with Mrs. Lyle Holland or William Gold.

Wendell Harding, state chairman of civil defense, spoke to the group on the work of the state civil defense program and urged all women to participate in the program. Projects now in active operation are aircraft spotting and mobile emergency units.

A discussion on the quota of blood donors for the council was led by Mrs. Emogene Moor.

From 2 o'clock to 4 o'clock, groups of members of the Y-Teens, Matronettes and Garden club will decorate the center. Mrs. J. G. Wright, Betty Shipps, Mary Cox and Jo Hannah Davis of the Y-Teens will decorate the Pine room for parties, and the Rose room will be arranged as a living room and decked out by Mrs. Phil Mutchie, Mrs. William C. Hall and Mrs. George Maull, jr., of the Matronettes. A sacred theme will be used for the decor of the Green room by Garden club members including Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kidd, Mrs. J. H. Hockensmith and Mrs. R. H. Czapanskiy.

Introducing— The Homan Elliots

By SHEILA EDEE

A centennial celebration is in order . . . although it seems incredible, we have interviewed almost one hundred new families in Lincoln since first we took pencil and copy paper in hand eight months ago to find the pastimes, interests and aspirations of new residents.

High on the list of engaging newcomers are Lt. and Mrs. Homan Elliott, who with Jeffrey, two-and-a-half, and fifteen-month-old Delton, have been transferred to the Naval Air Station from Bayside, Va. A graduate of Tufts in Medford, Mass., Lt. Elliott is teaching engineering while on his tour of duty here. He is a native of Kansas City and attended the University of Kansas before going on to Harvard, and before being graduated from Tufts.

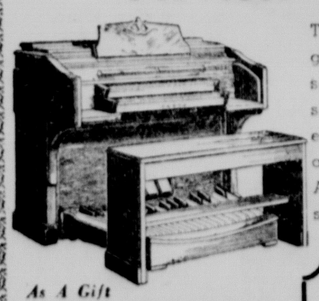

Mrs. Elliott, who keeps house in their new home at 6120 Judson street, likes to ski in her infrequent time outdoors. However, after living in Bayside's flat terrain, she has almost forgotten how to ski, so any training in her native town of Bar Harbor, Me., is of no value in Lincoln, Nebr.

A graduate of Tufts college, also, Mrs. Elliott majored in chemistry before she met her future husband. Unlike many graduates in a difficult field, she was able to use her education for she worked in the research department of the dental school in Medford.

Although Lt. Elliott is fortunate enough not to have been called to Korea, he spent some time during the last war in the African invasion and was also on hand at Bikini when the atomic bomb was being tested. Most interesting of all, perhaps, is the fact that while stationed in Bayside, Lt. Elliott was with the Underwater Demolition group—the "Frogmen."

Farm Bureau Urges Highway Commission

The Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation has adopted a host of resolutions, including approval of a highway commission, a sales or income tax and nomination of presidential candidates through a direct primary.

The group asked for a five-man highway commission appointed for staggered terms. Employment of a business manager to carry out the commission's policies was also recommended.

"We urge that a reasonable and realistic approach be taken in regard to the consideration of additional revenue," read the resolution, "if and when the membership of this organization believe the broad general policy of the highway department is properly set up and there is clear cut definition of policy and administration of the department and that the functioning of the department is such that it merits the confidence of all citizens that the Nebraska tax dollar for roads is being spent efficiently."

Division Urged

Another section of the document called for the division of the Department of Roads and Irrigation into two parts, Division of Roads and Irrigation and Safety Patrol and Motor Vehicle License.

The federation went on record against bonded indebtedness as a solution to the road problem.

In adopting its taxation program, the Federation stated that "The present tax policy of Nebraska fosters inequities upon our agricultural economy and results in uneconomic use of our natural resources."

A state sales or income tax was urged as a necessity to "afford relief to the taxation of property."

The Bureau favored a homestead exemption law.

Study Advised

While knocking the convention method of picking presidential candidates and favoring election by direct primary, the Federation also called for study of the feasibility "of changing the present system to one in which a presidential candidate would be chosen by a primary election and finally elected by the vote of the majority of the people."

Another resolution approved televising of sessions of Congress.

Among the school policies adopted was a statement that there are too many local school districts and redistricting should be undertaken on a local level with county assistance.

The group is on record as opposed to any federal aid or additional state aid for schools that would result in the loss of local administration in schools.

The Bureau favored "an adequate" appropriation to increase salaries of state university and state normal schools faculty members to bring those salaries up to a comparable basis with neighboring states.

Favor Federal Aid

Advocating use of federal grants-in-aid, the Farm Bureau urged "state legislation to be enacted to enable the state to carry out the provisions of the soil conservation and domestic allotment act now proposed by the federal government."

The farmers urged "more consideration be given to the contribution that proper land use and water conservation methods can make to the control of water run-off and the reduction of flood control."

It was recommended that watershed legislation be adopted to meet all problems of soil conservation, water run-off, siltation and flooding.

Hunting Resolution

The farmers devoted some time also to their problems with sportsmen. Resolutions were adopted urging no open season on either mourning doves or quail.

In the resolution on doves, it was stated, "there are numerous violations and many dangerous practices employed by mourning dove hunters."

Quails were described as "very beneficial birds to the farmer" and as having many natural enemies.

Prohibitive measures were urged to stop dumping of raw sewage and garbage into streams.

The Farm Bureau revoked its 1951 resolution favoring compulsory auto liability insurance because it tended "to socialize the insurance industry."

A resolution placing the Bureau in a neutral position in regards to water diversions was also adopted.

In its final business session Wednesday afternoon, the farmers re-elected Roland Nelson of Mead as vice president. Albert Benson, Blair, was elected to succeed Emil Ahrens as the northeast district representative on the board of directors.

Both Lester Lutz of South Omaha and William Richards of Orleans were re-elected to the board of directors.

Tooth Decay Studies Among Eskimos Told

How his studies of the Anaktuvuk Pass Eskimos show that any food besides fruit, vegetables and meat, is harmful to teeth, was explained by Dr. Carl Henkelmann at the Hiram Club ladies night program Wednesday at the YWCA.

Dr. Henkelmann, who has made a study of some 700 Eskimos in the pass, said that to prevent tooth decay, one should end meals with fruit or vegetables instead of sweets. These foods serve as a neutralizer or counteraction to sweets, he added.

The speakers showed slides of his trips explaining living conditions, foods and the land of Eskimos.

Jerry Minnick Named To All-Midlands First Team

Turkey Day TV Gridiron Slate: Lions Vs. Packers

DETROIT (AP)—One of the leadership logjams in the National Professional Football League is expected to be broken up partially here Thursday.

The Detroit Lions and Green Bay Packers, two of the four teams which are bunched in a first place tie in the National Conference, collide at Briggs Stadium in a Thanksgiving Day battle.

Until next Sunday at least the winner—tie games don't happen often in the pro league—will be off to itself at the top of the standings.

A crowd of at least 35,000 is expected to sit in on the annual Detroit Turkey Day noontime engagement which is to be televised nationally by Dumont over a 48-station hookup. The state of Michigan will be blacked out.

The game is a prelude to next Saturday's pro league card of equally important battles involving the deadlocks in both the National and American divisions.

San Francisco's 49ers and the Los Angeles Rams, the other pair tied for the National leadership, meet at San Francisco. Both are tied presently with Detroit and Green Bay at six victories and three defeats.

In the American Conference the Cleveland Browns, New York Giants and Philadelphia Eagles are tied at the top, also with 6-3 records. The Rams play at Washington, the Giants at Pittsburgh and the Eagles at the Chicago Cardinals.

The National Conference moves over to Akron, O., Thursday for a visit with the Chicago Bears playing the homeless Dallas Texans in the Rubber Bowl. The game was moved to Akron so as not to interfere with Sunday's Philadelphia-Chicago Cardinals game at Chicago.

Thursday's Lion-Packer showdown in Detroit likely is going to be controlled in part by the weather man.

Coach Gene Ronzani and his Packers blew into town Wednesday on a high wind which has hit 60 mph and better over the last 24 hours in Michigan.

Winds of like velocity are predicted for Thursday also, possibly with snow, and that kind of a situation could spoil passing strategy.

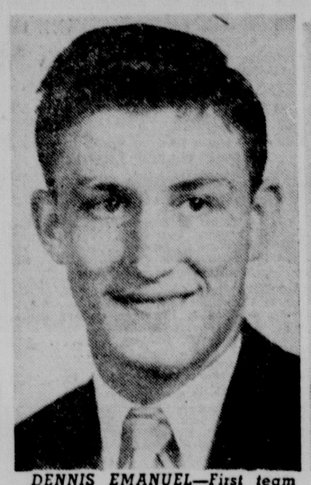

Also, there's the question of how far Lion injuries have mended. Coach Buddy Parker had no less than nine men on the hospital list after last Sunday's upset 24-23 loss to the Chicago Bears. Most will be available for action, however.

The Packers, on the upswing with four straight wins, are regarded as shortenders but very dangerous. The Lions ran wild to trounce the Packers early in the season 52-17 but the Green Bay outfit is regarded as a vastly different team now.

Husmann, Curtis, Bobby Get Second-Team Spots

KANSAS CITY (INS)—Jerry Minnick, 215-pound junior tackle, was named to the International News Service's All-Midlands first team Wednesday, and three other Nebraskans landed second-team berths.

Halfback Bob Reynolds, Guard Kay Curtis and Tackle Ed Husmann were on the second eleven.

Minnick, an All-Big Seven choice and a candidate for All-America honors, was a defensive standout for the Cornhusker outfit which finished third in the Big Seven race behind Oklahoma and Missouri.

Reynolds, who suffered a shoulder separation in the fourth game of the season, came back to give the Huskers added offensive punch during the latter part of the season, although he missed the finale against Oklahoma.

Husmann, a converted guard, captained the Huskers along with Reynolds and Carl Brasee. Husmann's selection gave Nebraska claim to two of the four tackles chosen on the team.

Kay Curtis, a guard, was also named to a first-team All-Big Seven berth as well as his spot on the All-Midlands second team.

Reynolds, Husmann and Curtis are seniors.

Oklahoma dominated the selections, placing four men on the first team and one on the second.

Three Sooner backs — Quarterback Eddie (The Magician) Crowder, Halfback Billy Vessels and Fullback Buck McPhail made the first team, along with All-American Center Tom Catlin. Guard Dick Bowman landed a second-team spot.

Catlin and Vessels are considered All-America material. Catlin played in every game this season. Vessels is the leading Big Seven scorer. Crowder ran the Norman powerhouse smoothly all year and McPhail was close to Vessels in scoring honors.

Rounding out the first-team backfield is Charlie Hoag of Kansas, who set a new Jayhawk rushing record although missing five games in the last two years due to injuries.

Others on the first eleven are Don Branby, hard-hitting defensive end from Colorado; Willie Roberts, Tulsa end who led the Missouri Valley Conference in scoring; Don Rutter, Missouri tackle; Marv Matuszak, Tulsa guard, and Bob Castle, Missouri guard.

Oilers' Opposition Will Be Tough In Lincoln Exhibition

When the Phillips 66 Oilers basketball team takes on the Kelly Ryan outfit from Blair at the Coliseum in Lincoln Dec. 3, it won't find a pushover.

The Oilers will run into a team composed of top stars from Wesleyan, Hastings, Omaha U., Creighton U. and Missouri, and may have their hands full in the Lincoln Jaycee - sponsored game.

Del Miller

Leading the Kelly Ryan squad will be Del Miller, Wesleyan's all time great who performed last season for the Peoria Caterpillar Diesels, the number one amateur team in the United States last year.

Also on the Blair squad is Pinky Knowles, former Creighton ace. Others are Whitey Sieckman, 6-foot 5-inch giant from Hastings; Ernie Flicky from Omaha U.; and Walt McQuire from Missouri.

These men will form the nucleus of a squad of 15.

Two former Cornhuskers are among the Phillips stars. Milt (Bus) Whitehead and Bob (Shorty) Pierce will be back on their home court for the fray.

Other former big-name ballplayers now with the Oilers are Clyde Lovellette, Kansas all-American last year; Chuck Darling, Iowa's high-scoring ace; Wayne Glasgow, formerly of Oklahoma and a member of the U. S. Olympic team; and 7-foot Bob Kurland, the perennial ace of the 66ers.

Perini Family Buys Control Of Braves

BOSTON (INS)—Joseph Perini, vice president of the Boston Braves Wednesday night announced that all stockholders of the National League Baseball Club of Boston, Inc., have agreed to sell their stock to the three Perini brothers.

As a result, the Braves will be owned entirely by the Perini family. No mention was made of sale price.

Several weeks ago, Lou Perini, president of the Braves, made his second offer to buy the club to the stockholders at a meeting in the Bellevue Hotel. He asked for a decision by Dec. 1.

However, Wednesday C. Joseph Maney, treasurer of the club and believed to be the second largest holder of stock in the club, Leonard Rugo, Joseph Rugo, Daniel Marr, Frank McCourt, Joseph O'Connell, Jay Cole, and the estate of the late Gov. Frank G. Allen agreed to dispose of their holdings.

Is Oklahoma Too Big For Its Britches?

OKLAHOMA, very plain and simple, is growing too big for its britches.

Sure, you say, the Sooners now own five straight undisputed Big Seven football titles and something like 36 straight conference victories. They haven't been beaten at Norman by a loop member since 1942.

Loud noises are emerging from Oklahoma City and its statewide environs, fanned on by such a ridiculous statement as that coming from George Cross, the Oklahoma chancellor.

Cross, who only a year ago was demanding a Big Seven layoff from bowl games, openly told the Sooner student body recently, that he would approve a bowl game if the team voted for it. He told the students that he realized Oklahoma, by accepting a bowl bid, would have to do the honorable thing and leave the Big Seven conference.

Such an off-hand statement by Cross, a die-hard fan who can be found in the Sooner dressing room after games, can only hint that heap big friction exists between Oklahoma and the rest of the league. Even a college president, given to pretty inconsistent approaches to athletics these days, doesn't go around tossing off such casual threats.

Oklahoma, like a proud and wounded eagle, has been feeling for some time that the Big Seven is ganging up on it. The Sooners have been consistently outvoted in recent years at policy meetings, with special emphasis on player procurement.

Sports Editor John (Hard Tack) Cronley of the Daily Oklahoman says that Nebraska, Colorado and Iowa State are the Big Seven teams leading the fight against post-season bowls. Missouri rode the fence as an absentee and Kansas and Kansas State were said to be mildly favorable.

Cronley goes on to warn that if Oklahoma does not join the Southwest conference and possible continues as an independent, the school will run the risk of wrecking the over-all sports setup by breaking away solely for football.

Actually, the Sooner squad, in voting down a certain Orange Bowl bid if it meant expulsion from the league, showed better judgment than Chancellor Cross. If the team had approved, Cross would have been solidly on the carpet and the school would probably have been forced into immediate withdrawal and created a gigantic furor in all collegiate circles.

TRYING to figure out what Chancellor Cross was trying to do brought to us these possibilities:

(1) That Oklahoma regents might have politely told him that he went too far in talking of a break at this particular time.

(2) That he might have had secret assurance from some league members that they would go along with Oklahoma in the future if the break could be stalled.

(3) That Oklahoma is getting ready to outgrow its Big Seven pantaloons and step into its own tuxedo as either a high-level independent or as a member of the Southwest Conference. It's been understood that the Sooners have a standing invitation from the Southwest League.

One central thing to be considered is that the current Sooners include 17 regulars who are seniors. A major building program looms at Norman and should take at least three years.

With the Sooners not of Herculean proportions in other sport besides football, it is not likely they would desert the Big Seven now.

Disregarding Oklahoma, which we are doing, one thing remains certain.

Public opinion favors bowl games, which are an integral part of the American tradition.

That public opinion will be matched against the college presidents in that oncoming NCAA meeting. To our knowledge, we've never yet seen public opinion given too bad a beating.

Our personal opinion is this: If the honor of competing is the only objective of a team's participation in a bowl game, we think they are a fine thing.

Did the 1940 Rose Bowl appearance ever hurt the Nebraska Cornhuskers?

Krieger Plans Benefit Rassle

A benefit wrestle will be staged Tuesday night, with gal wrestlers making their first appearance in the Capital City ring this season.

Promoter Adam Krieger said that this week, 25 per cent of the gross receipts will be turned over to training leader dogs for the blind at Rochester, Mich. This same program is being followed by wrestle shows throughout the country during the week of Thanksgiving.

Krieger said that for this show no children would be admitted free, in fact, he added, "even the wrestlers will have to pay to get in the door."

Joann Mullennieux of Reynoldsburg, Ohio, and Gloria Shelton of Lubbock, Texas, will tangle in the two out of three fall, 60-minute semi-final windup.

Big Ten's Offensive Crown To Badgers

CHICAGO (AP)—Wisconsin's Rose Bowl-bound Badgers Wednesday were crowned the Big Ten's champions of offensive football for the recently completed campaign as they averaged a record-breaking 415.5 yards per game.

No. 1 defensive team, according to official league statistics, was fourth-place Michigan which yielded an average of 258.8 yards per game.

The Badgers, who shared the conference title with Purdue, were ranked fourth defensively although shaded by Michigan in yardage surrendered by only a fraction of a yard at 259.2.

Defensive rating was based on opponents' yards gained, points and first downs.

Sixteen team records were tied or broken in the hot 1952 season, 10 of them involving passing. Illinois, a national leader, produced seven new marks.

Vols To Wear White In Bowl

. . . Neyland Gives In

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Tennessee agreed Wednesday to wear white jerseys in the Cotton Bowl football game with Texas next New Year's Day.

The announcement by Gen. Bob Neyland, Tennessee athletic director, settled a mild disagreement between the two teams as to which would wear the favored orange jerseys.

The colors of both schools are orange and white, and for years both teams have worn orange jerseys.

Two years ago when the Longhorns and Volunteers met in the Dallas classic, the question was resolved by Texas agreeing to wear white jerseys.

Neyland, a superstitious coach, was reluctant to change from orange to white jerseys. But he said agreement had been reached with the Texans.

Tennessee will buy enough white jerseys, he said, to equip each lineman with two and each back with four or five.

Ez Charles Stops Bivins By Decision

CHICAGO (INS) — Ex-Heavyweight Champion Ezzard Charles pounded out a unanimous decision over Veteran Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland Wednesday night in a one-sided 10-round bout at the Chicago Stadium.

It was the fifth meeting of the pair and for a few moments in the first round it looked as though it might be the briefest.

Charles came out punching savagely with both hands and inside the first minute bludgeoned Bivins to the floor for a count of eight with blows to the head.

Bivins, however, a tough, rolypoly veteran who shook off punches as though he were made of rubber, survived the round.

For the rest of the bout, he was a target for Charles who tried desperately for a knockout but never was even close to his objective. Bivins was too tough and kept rolling with the blows.

Bivins won only one round, the fifth which Referee Johnny Behr gave him because of a low blow by Charles.

Charles weighed 185 pounds, Bivins 183.

A crowd of 2,779 paid a gross gate of $7,371.87 to see the bout. Charles received 30 per cent of the net gate and Bivins 20 per cent. Each man collected $2,000 for television.

Catlin Top Choice On Nebraska's All OpponentGridClub

University of Nebraska football players Wednesday named Tom Catlin, Oklahoma university center, a unanimous offensive choice and a near-unanimous defensive choice of their all-opponent teams.

The Cornhusker gridders also named Roosevelt Grier, Penn State tackle, unanimously to the all-opponent defensive unit.

The offensive unit as voted by the Nebrakans:

The defensive unit:

Ends—Don Branby, Colorado, and Gene Calame, Oklahoma; tackles—Roosevelt Grier, Penn State and George Mrkonic, Kansas; guards—Perce Zachery, Minnesota, and Bob Hantla, Kansas; linebackers—Tom Catlin, Oklahoma, and Gerald Helgeson, Minnesota; left halfback—Gil Reich, Kansas; right halfback—Ed Merrifield, Missouri; safety—Veeryl Switzer, Kansas State.

Trojan Defensive Ace To Miss Irish Game

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Southern California disclosed Wednesday night on the eve of the Trojans' departure for South Bend, Ind., to face Notre Dame's gridders Saturday in the 24th renewal of their series that a cracked vertebrae has sidelined ace defensive halfback Dick Nunis.

Possibility also was seen that the powerful, unbeaten USC football machine would have to forego a scheduled outdoor workout today at Denver because of snow.

1952 Plainsmen Fourth Highest Scorers In History Of School

NEBRASKA Wesleyan University's 185 points scored in ten games this past season, was the fourth best scoring output in Wesleyan history, a check of the records book has revealed.

But the output of Coach Roy Robertson's 1952 Plainsmen with their 37 lettermen, appears puny indeed when compared with the efforts of the Wesleyan teams in the early "iron man" days of college football.

Ben Beck coached and Bill Kahm captained the highest scoring Wesleyan team to a 241 point total over a nine game route in 1919. Coach Beck lettered but 15 men. An 82-0 victory over Kearney State was the scoring highlight. York college blasted the Plainsmen 20-0 for the lone loss to a Nebraska foe.

In 1914 Coach W. G. Kline fielded "eleven blocks of granite," who tallied 210 points in eight games while losing only to Creighton, 16-6. Leonard Hughes captained the team. Only eleven numerals were awarded.

The 1916 club, also tutored by Kline, managed 186, one more than the 1952 output. Leonard Hughes captained the Wesleyans over a nine game route. Thirteen men earned letters.

Captain Wesley Hultquist set the new individual scoring record this year, tallying nine touchdowns, and converting 21 out of 23 PATs successfully.

He had assistance from nine teamates who contributed to the 185 point total.

The scoring chart:

	TDs	PATs	Total
Hultquist, Wes	9	21	75
Kahl, Cliff	5	0	30
Reed, Glenn	3	0	18
Nelson, Sanford	3	0	18
Wiltfang, Merlin	3	0	18

Pass Interception Wins USC Guard Lineman Of Week Honor

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK (AP)—Guards and tackles seldom get their hands on the ball during a football game, but when they do—watch out!

Big Elmer Willhoite, Southern California guard, intercepted a pass in the third quarter of last Saturday's game with UCLA.

Elmer, a 216-pound senior, raced down the sidelines 72 yards to the UCLA 8-yard line. The play set up USC's winning touchdown in the Trojans' 14-12 victory that put them in the Rose Bowl against Wisconsin.

The play, topping Willhoite's fine work throughout the game both offensively and defensively, Wednesday brought Elmer The Associated Press award as lineman of the week.

How come Elmer happened to intercept the pass?

"I'd moved off to my right expecting a run," he explained afterwards. "The first thing I knew there was the ball. I just took off."

Donn Moomaw, UCLA's great center, gave a bangup performance for the losing Bruins, as did UCLA tackles Chuck Doud and Jack Ellena, but they did not surpass Willhoite.

Other linemen nominated included Bob Peviani, USC guard; Center Tom Catlin, Oklahoma; Tackle Bill Turnbeaugh, Auburn; and John Griggs, Kentucky end.

Yale's Olivar Gets Three-Year Pact

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (INS)—Jordan Olivar, whose "emergency" coaching this fall brought Yale seven victories in nine games, departed for his Inglewood, Calif., home Wednesday with a new three-year Eli contract.

Olivar, who had only 10 working days with his squad before the season opened, said after a meeting with the Yale athletic board:

"I am very pleased. I feel grateful for the co-operation I've received from everyone."

Olivar and his wife plan to visit friends and relatives in New York and Philadelphia en route to Inglewood. He will return to Yale in January to make plans for the 1953 season.

Farm Group Opposes Dove, Quail Seasons

The Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation met in Lincoln Wednesday afternoon, and two of the resolutions it passed may have bearing on Nebraska hunting in the future.

The Federation urged that the Farm Bureau use its influence to eliminate open seasons on quail and mourning doves in the state.

Traditional Attractions Top Sparse Thanksgiving Day Football Docket

NEW YORK (AP)—College football's Thanksgiving Day menu serves up mostly traditional games.

The top games of the slim Thursday card pit Cornell against Pennsylvania at Philadelphia and Texas A & M against Texas' Cotton Bowl-bound Southwest Conference champions.

Penn has a lot at stake in its traditional battle with Cornell. A victory will assure Coach George Munger's squad the Ivy League championship and also will enable Penn to finish over the .500 mark.

No Penn team has finished below .500 since Munger took over in 1938. Penn has won three games and lost none in Ivy League play.

Texas figures to defeat Texas A & M at Austin. Texas sports a 7-2 over-all mark and a 5-0 record in conference play. The Aggies have won only one league game and three all told.

The Skyline Conference can also be decided Thursday when Utah and Utah State clash at Salt Lake City. Utah leads the circuit with a 4-0 record and can wrap it up by winning over State.

Other games Thursday include Miami (Ohio) vs Cincinnati at Cincinnati; Santa Clara vs San Jose State at San Jose, Calif.; Colgate vs Brown at Providence, R. I.; VPI vs VMI at Roanoke, Va.; and Wyoming vs Denver at Denver.

Rams Drill For Buffs

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (INS)—Colorado A & M gridders went through a spirited indoor workout Wednesday afternoon in preparation for the state championship game with Colorado University at Boulder Saturday.

Aggie Coach Bob Davis, pleased with the squad morale, indicated the team would probably be in top physical condition for the traditional game. The tilt will be the season windup for both clubs.

Knee Operation To Bench Hoag

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Charles Hoag, Kansas University's senior football and basketball star from Oak Park, Ill., will undergo surgery for a football knee injury next week and won't be available for the Jayhawk cage team until early February.

Dr. Alexander Mitchell, team physician, described Hoag's injury as a cartilage laceration. Hoag hurt his knee in the Nov. 1 game against Kansas State College.

Meanwhile, Gil Reich, another gridder who was counted on as a big addition to the cage squad, is nursing a broken finger suffered in last Saturday's game with Missouri. Reich won't be able to play basketball until after Christmas.

Flyweight Champ To Wed

TOKYO (INS — World Flyweight Boxing Champion Yoshio Shirai Wednesday revealed plans to marry Toshhiko Shioya on Dec. 17.

Shirai became Japan's first world boxing champion last May when he defeated Dado Marino of Honolulu. He defeated Marino again in a return title bout Nov. 15.

Navy Picked Over Cadets By Seven; Coach Doubtful

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz heard Wednesday the dopesters had made his team a seven-point favorite over Army and turned glummer than ever.

"I don't believe it," Erdelatz said. "This year I'm more worried than ever before."

This year—this Saturday at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium—holds the prospect of Navy's first defeat by West Point since Erdelatz arrived in Annapolis two seasons ago.

In 1950 Erdelatz took the product of his initial year as a head football coach to Philadelphia with only two victories in eight games. Army was riding high then, but the Midshipmen won in one of the sport's greatest reversals, 14-2.

Now Army, still shaking off effects of its cribbing scandal of 1951, comes up to the Navy game with a so-so record of four wins, three losses and a tie. But the Cadets also are returning from their most crushing defeat of a grid rivalry that began in 1890. Navy won last year, 42-7.

Erdelatz called off rough work with Wednesday afternoon's session. He scheduled a light Thanksgiving exercise, and only a conditioning tuneup for Friday after the Middies reach Philadelphia.

Pan-American Race Winners Ruled Legit

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Pan-American Road Race Committee has rejected an informal complaint made against the three Lincoln cars which finished 1-2-3 in the stock car section of the recently completed event.

The committee, in a written statement, said Wednesday the cars were "within the specifications of the catalogue, including the factory's commercial options."

It was reported that some of the losing drivers complained that optional equipment on the export models of the Lincoln gave them an unfair advantage over models of other cars obtainable only in the United States.

The committee report said such optional equipment was allowable as long as it was made by the factory and was listed in the catalogue.

Lincolns driven by Chuck Stevenson of Milwaukee, John Mantz of Los Angeles and Walter Faulkner of Long Beach, Calif., were inspected in Juarez.

Army Spirits High, Blaik Wants It Dry

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—"Apprehensive but hopeful."

That's the way Coach Earl (Red) Blaik described Army's attitude Wednesday shortly before putting his thinly manned squad through their last rough scrimmage for the big football game with Navy Saturday.

"Our spirits are pretty high," said Blaik. "Our 14-13 win over Penn gave the boys a tremendous lift."

He cast an anxious eye at overhanging clouds and said he hoped the weatherman would line up with Army at Philadelphia's vast Municipal Staudium. That means he hopes the field is fast and dry.

"They say rain is predicted," he added. "Rain naturally would help Navy. They're stronger than we are, have a much better ground game. We'll have to count on passing to hold our own with them."

NCAA Gives Irish OK For 'Partial' TV

NEW YORK (INS) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association Wednesday night granted the University of Notre Dame permission to "partially" televise its football game Saturday with Southern California.

Asa Bushnell, director of the NCAA's TV program, sent a telegram to the Rev. Edmund Joyce, C.S.C., executive vice president of Notre Dame, in which he said the Irish could present that portion of their game remaining after the completion of the Army-Navy game.

The service contest in Philadelphia is the regularly-scheduled "Game of the Day" in the NCAA's restricted TV college football program. The Army-Navy game, carried by NBC to a nation-wide audience, begins at 12:30 p.m. (CST), while the Irish-Trojan game is slated to begin at 1 p.m. (CST), in South Bend. That means possibly one period of the Notre Dame game would be telecast.

Bushnell said the TV committee issued its approval "in the interest of the public."

In his telegram to Father Joyce, Bushnell said the "supplementary telecast is possible under provisions of the plan" because of the very limited national grid schedule this Saturday.

At Notre Dame, the Rev. Mr. Joyce confirmed receipt of the committee's wire. He also said details on whether the school would or would not use the television time allotted would be "worked out sometime tomorrow."

Continued Price And Wage Controls Seems Favored In Capital

M. DiSalle To Advise On Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration seemed committed Wednesday to keep price and wage controls until Congress lets them die—perhaps April 30.

After calling former Price Boss Michael V. DiSalle here to advise on control methods and policy during the swan-song days of the administration, Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam told assembled OPS officials:

"We still need controls in many places."

Putnam favors a 14-month extension of anti-inflation powers—until mid-1954. He said he hoped DiSalle's return as a special consultant to him would quash reports of imminent abandonment of ceilings.

The reports broke into print on Monday when Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said he had information that President Truman was considering killing wage and price ceilings before the new, Republican-dominated Congress meets on Jan. 3.

No Such Plan

The White House later said Truman had no such plan, but OPS workers, already jarred by the announced resignation of Price Director Tighe E. Woods, were uncertain whether they had a control program or not. Some were making plans to quit Washington.

Putnam Wednesday named Joseph H. Freehill, formerly Wood's deputy, to be acting director of OPS. Then Putnam called the OPS staff together and reassured it that controls will be maintained.

DiSalle's arrival on Dec. 1 will coincide with the effective date of Wood's resignation. Putnam said, however, that the chubby Ohioan will remain only "a week or two" and will not resume command of the price agency which he headed until February.

Putnam made public his letter to DiSalle confirming the latter's advisory mission. It said that DiSalle, who was unsuccessful in an attempt to win the Ohio Senate seat of Republican Senator Bricker, will confer with him on control matters "as to organization, administration and policies."

Oppose Extension

The price-wage control authority in the Defense Production Act expires on April 30. Some leading Republican members of Congress oppose any extension.

The ceilings could be eliminated earlier, moreover, by a mere executive order from President Truman or, after Jan. 20, from President-elect Eisenhower.

There were these further developments:

1. A decision on rolling back retail beef prices, due from Woods Wednesday, was postponed at Putnam's request until DiSalle is consulted.

2. Putnam, faced with approving or rejecting a coal wage boost which may be crucial to the future of wage control, said he hopes to leave Washington soon after the decision. But he added that he "will not leave during a crisis."

Bryan Memorial Commission Post To Sterling Mutz

Sterling Mutz, Lincoln attorney, was announced Wednesday by Gov. Val Peterson as having accepted appointment on the Bryan Memorial Commission. The appointment was made by the governor and James C. Olson, superintendent of the State Historical Society.

With the filling of the vacancy on the commission the governor said he was asking Mrs. T. S. Allen, secretary, to call a meeting of the commission to decide upon a permanent location for the W. J. Bryan statue, temporarily placed on the north plaza of the Capitol.

A meeting of the historical society has been called for Friday to discuss suggestions that it be placed on the grounds of the society's new building at 15th and R streets. At an earlier meetingg the society in planning the new building made no provision for statuary.

Bryan Memorial hospital trustees have offered space for the statue on the hospital grounds which is located on the site of Fairview, the home of Bryan in Lincoln.

Alimony Case Dismissed

The case of the State versus Kenneth Parker, 5945 Cleveland, for failure to pay alimony for child support was dismissed Wednesday by District Judge John L. Polk on the recommendation of the County Attorney.

Parker was charged with not paying alimony to his former wife to aid in the support of a daughter, 15.

Kovanda Death Attributed To Asphyxiation

YUTAN, Neb. (AP)—The body of Robert F. Kovanda, 47, Wahoo, was found in his stalled car three miles west of Yutan on Highway 77 Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. H. F. Friesen of Yutan said Kovanda had died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

The doctor said the car had stalled Tuesday and that Kovanda had spent the night in a nearby farmhouse. He went out Wednesday morning to try to dig his car out and start the motor.

The body was found by a bread truck driver. The car was virtually covered by snow at the time, but the motor was still warm.

Deputy Sheriff W. E. Gilbert said he thought Kovanda was employed at the Mead Ordnance Plant.

Stricken Woman Stranded In Car

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. (AP)—An Anita, Ia., woman, so ill she could not be moved from her snow-stalled car, was marking time Wednesday near the Roy Williams farm, about 21 miles out of Council Bluffs on Highway 6.

The woman is Mrs. Mamie Trockenberg, about 50, a heart patient.

Gasoline was carried to the car to keep it running and keep her warm. Food also was brought her in the car.

An Anita druggist, Wilber Matthews, and his wife, left Anita at 2:15 p.m. Wednesday to take Mrs. Trockenberg to Doctors Hospital in Omaha.

The car became one of many stalled near the Williams farm. Between 60 and 75 people were stranded at the three-room house. By noon Wednesday food was in short supply.

Sale Of Buildings Is Given Board Approval

The board of educational lands and funds Wednesday approved sale of buildings on 40 acres of land in Johnson county which escheated to the state from the estate of Mattie E. Morgan.

The buildings which had been appraised at $1,800 brought $2,585 at public auction. Lease of the land brought a bonus of $10 from Arthur Tuxhorn. The land is appraised at $3,665 and at the 6 per cent rental rate required by law bring $219.90 yearly.

"AT THE CROSSROADS OF LINCOLN"

U.S. Casualties Drop; ROK Use Factor

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Pentagon reported Wednesday that last week's U. S. casualties in Korea reached the lowest total in five months and gave credit to increased use of South Korean troops for the sharp drop in American losses.

American killed, wounded and missing last week totaled 271. This compared with figures of 1,278, 1,174, and 1,318, respectively, for the three preceding weeks.

Defense officials said the decline in U. S. casualties reflects a new policy of turning over the front lines to South Koreans wherever such action is possible. A spokesman added that slow-up of fighting with the onset of winter also was a factor.

American casualties since the start of the war now stand at 126,997—19,939 killed in action, 94,036 wounded, and 13,022 missing. The total of known American dead is 22,258.

Army Report

For last week, the Army reported 182 casualties to bring its total to 99,814, while the Marine Corps added 69 for a total of 24,117. The Air Force and Navy had 14 and six casualties, respectively, to bring their totals to 1,338 and 1,728.

The policy of turning more of the front over to South Koreans was favored by President-elect Eisenhower during the campaign, and took concrete form when the South Koreans assumed responsibility for the defense of "Triangle Hill" at the end of October. The U. S. Seventh Infantry Division withdrew from "Triangle Hill" at that time.

The Pentagon's weekly summary lists only casualties where nearest relatives have been notified, and the announcement usually reflects the effects of fighting that occurred two to three weeks earlier. Spokesmen pointed out that the South Koreans already have by far the largest total of battle casualties—about 257,000—but said they have shown eagerness to take over the front wherever they can.

An analysis of losses since the start of the war showed that casualties are usually heavy in the fall. The spokesman said that fighting for desirable winter positions is responsible, and that the season for this type of warfare has now ended in Korea.

Service records indicate that of the 94,036 wounded, more than 79,000 have been returned to some form of military duty.

'Model Legislative Sessions' Slated By H-Y Members

Approximately 100 Hi-Y members from over the state are expected to participate in the YMCA-sponsored "model legislative sessions" Friday and Saturday here.

Two concurrent, mythical sessions, patterned on Nebraska's Unicameral, will be conducted in the Legislative Chambers at the Statehouse.

These high school students, who will probably include several girls, have been preparing legislation for the last several months, Harold Kuebler, YMCA area staff member, said.

This program places emphasis on the legislative body and its work. Because of Nebraska's unique one-house Legislature, two concurrent sessions will be conducted in this state, he added.

Participants will register Friday, 9 a.m., at the State Capitol and will swing into sessions during the forenoon.

A banquet is scheduled for Friday night at the Student Union. William Bogar, Lincoln High School principal, will be in charge of the program.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed By International News Service)

The average housewife, according to General Electric, works 58 hours a week . . . and that's not counting Thanksgiving.

☆ ☆ ☆

Thanksgiving ought to bring it up to about 72 . . . and it's still at straight time and no holiday on John Lewis' birthday.

☆ ☆ ☆

And it might be added that the woman who puts in 58 hours has more reason to strike for 40 hours than her husband who is apt to any moment.

☆ ☆ ☆

Women just don't know their own strength on account of they're so busy with their men's weaknesses.

☆ ☆ ☆

And when we're giving our thanks for our blessings this year let us not forget to give thanks that so far our wives haven't asked when they're to get it on "labor's gains."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Steel, Rails Carry Stocks To New High

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and railroads combined Wednesday to push the stock market up to another new high for the year.

Steels were almost alone early in the session in moving up and creating some demand.

Other sections of the market gradually lined up with the steels, then railroads took charge.

Enthusiasm for the carriers, added to the demand for the steels, soon sent the market ahead on a broad front from fractions to between one and three points.

Pre-Thanksgiving Day buying was encouraged by a succession of good dividend actions, fine earnings reports, and forecasts of better markets due to these factors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 80 cents and closed at $111.70, a new high for the year. The market was down slightly Tuesday from the new 1952 high established Monday.

The average at $111.70 is at the highest point since June 6, 1930, when it stood at $112.90.

Trading last week averaged 1,920,000 shares daily. Monday it exceeded two million shares, and Tuesday it came to 1,930,000 shares. The daily average for the year to date is less than 1,200,000 shares.

The market was quite broad with 1,195 individual issues on the tape of which 614 advanced and 305 declined with 87 new highs and only 3 new lows for the year reached during the day.

Rain, Snow Reports Force Grains Down

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat paid a lot more attention to the rain and snow in the Southwest Wednesday, prices dropping fractionally to more than a cent on the Board of Trade.

Other cereals also were lower. The weather was viewed as quite favorable for feed grain prices, but it appeared this had been discounted in Tuesday's brisk advance. Even so, corn and oats did better than wheat.

Wheat closed ½-1½ lower, corn ½ lower to ¼ higher, oats ⅝ lower to ⅜ higher, rye 1½ to 2 cents lower, soybeans 1¾ lower to ¼ higher and lard 12 to 30 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Most of the Winter Wheat Belt lay under a snow blanket, and those sections which didn't have at least received some rain. Both July and September wheat tumbled more than a cent. While the drought has been broken, some grain men cautioned that deficiency of subsoil moisture will cause concern until the crop is harvested.

There wasn't much reason for buying wheat. Flour business remained dull.

Corn and oats sank with wheat early but came back quite briskly in the closing hour.

Friday will be the first day on which notices of intentions to deliver grain on December contracts can be filled with the clearing house. Some traders estimated deliveries at 1½ to two million bushels of corn and possibly 750,000 to a million bushels of wheat.

78 Persons Rescued From Stranded Cars By Also-Stranded Guardsmen

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Thanksgiving Day will have new significance for a number of motorists trapped on Nebraska highways by the pre-holiday blizzard which swept the state.

Among these are 78 persons, some stranded on drift-choked Highways 2 and 6 near Lincoln for as long as eight hours Tuesday night, who were rescued by National Guardsmen, themselves stranded at the Lincoln air base.

The group, including a half-dozen women and five children, were taken by their rescuers to the Guard's supply building on the base, where approximately 30 guardsmen and six civilian employees elected to spend the night rather than attempt driving home.

Stranded motorists were reported between the air base and Lincoln on Highway 2 by WO Pete Carpenter, a guardsman, who successfully reached home early in the evening.

Jeep, Truck Used

Guardsmen, manning a jeep and a 2½-ton truck, removed a number of persons from the stranded vehicles, before the truck, its driver blinded by the raging storm, slipped from the road into a drift.

The jeep returned to the base for re-enforcements after unsuccessful attempts to free the truck. Rescue teams, manning a total of four jeeps, four 2½-ton trucks, and a ¾-ton truck, made forays from the base between 7 p.m. and after midnight to remove persons from stranded vehicles.

Approximately 50 persons were rescued from vehicles stalled for two miles between the base and Lincoln on Highway 2. Guardsmen pushed toward Lincoln until meeting State Safety Patrolmen operating from Lincoln.

The remainder were removed from vehicles stranded on West O, near the air base, and on Highway 2 from Seward up to 16 miles from the entrance of the base.

Meals Served

The six civilian women employees of the Guard units, operating a makeshift kitchen, served meals of Army-type "C" rations to both the rescuers and the rescued. Cots were set up for the women and children.

Guardsmen also tied-in a mobile electric generator to the building's power lines during a three-hour power failure. The building was without electric lights and heat for about an hour until guardsmen were able to tie the generator into power lines operating the furnaces.

Five children, ranging in age from six months to 4 years, were rescued. They were the granddaughters of Mrs. Doris Ennis of Malcolm, who, with the children, was a passenger in the car of John Mook of Pleasant Dale.

Between 25 and 30 guardsmen were stranded at the base and participated in the rescue forays. They were joined in several instances by the rescued motorists.

The guardsmen are members of Headquarters, 34th division, 3667th Ordnance company and U. S. Purchasing and Disbursing office.

Officers who directed operations included Lt. Col. W. J. Atkinson, Maj. F. S. Greenlief, Capt. William Stoeckle, Lt. Harold Sherman, Lt. Richard Weidman, and Capt. John Carpenter.

All of the rescued were "very happy" to be taken from their stranded cars. Only two persons elected to remain with their vehicles, one was a truck driver, who had 60 gallons of gas to keep his truck heater running and preferred to remain with his truck.

BLIZZARD-STRANDED MOTORISTS RESCUED BY GUARDSMEN — National Guardsmen, making rescue forays from the Lincoln Air Base during the height of the blizzard Tuesday night, rescued 78 motorists stranded on drift-choked highways west and northwest of Lincoln. Shown are some of the rescued, who, after spending the night on the base, were brought to Lincoln Wednesday forenoon by Guard vehicles. They are being served coffee and donuts in the Lincoln Red Cross offices by Mrs. Richard J. Thomas, staff aid, (extreme right). (Star Photo.)

Shickley Scene Of Soil Test Meeting Dec. 5

SHICKLEY, Neb. — (Lincoln Star Special)—Mark Weldon, extension soil specialist at the University of Nebraska will speak at an evening meeting here Dec. 5.

Weldon will discuss soil fertility and demonstrate soil samples and lime uses. Farmers in this vicinity who are interested in soil tests for lime on their farms, are urged to secure a sample of the top six inches in 10 different spots to get a composite sample, mix this and bring to the meeting.

Dendinger Appointed Head Of Chamber Group

HASTINGS, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special)—Lawrence Dendinger is the chairman of the budget and finance committee of the Hastings Chamber of Commerce, the first committee to undertake its new duties for the coming year. Other members of this group are Wayne Decker, Charles Deets, Fred Goll, Ben Oberg, Ed Wilken, August Anderson, Don Cottingham, Elmer Feis, Burton Thompson, Dr. G. H. Wieland, Dr. Herbert Anderson, Fred Irons and Andy Sherman.

City Light, Street Crews Work Around Clock To Repair Damage

The City Light Department had its full crew of 20 linemen out all of Tuesday night answering emergency calls.

The Department had little trouble of its own, however, as there were no breaks in major power lines and breaks in only two branch lines. Most department difficulty was caused by the supply failure from Nebraska Power System.

With the NPPS failure, the city Department had to carry all its own load. This extra load, according to City Engineer D. L. Erickson, caused the flickering and dimming of lights in homes early in the evening.

Transport Tie Up

Several lines into individual homes were broken by the storm and a tree fell over a line into one home. The Light Department reported extreme difficulty in getting its men transported to the trouble spots.

A Street Department crew worked all night, said Street Superintendent Lynn Meyers, but was able to accomplish little in the face of the blinding storm.

The full Street Department Crew, operating 10 motor graders and 10 snow plows and trucks, were on the job at 5 a.m. City Lines' bus route were the first streets opened.

At the same time, another Department crew was spreading treated salt on downtown streets which were a layer of thick ice by early Wednesday morning.

Myers reported his street crews would be working all Wednesday night and Thanksgiving day, clearing all streets and hauling snow away.

As an afterthought on the stalled cars, Myers suggested that all motorists have tire chains and carry them in their car for use in such emergencies as developed Tuesday night.

Dead Driver's Body Is Recovered From Snow-Stalled Truck

MISSOURI VALLEY, Ia. (AP)—The body of Irvin C. Knott, 52, of Omaha was recovered from the cab of his stalled truck west of here late Wednesday.

Harrison County Coroner Harold Hennessey said Knott apparently had died of a heart attack while waiting for snowplows to reopen a Highway 30 detour.

Knott's truck stalled on the detour about 4½ miles west of Missouri Valley Tuesday evening.

Thanksgiving Advice

CHICAGO (INS)—For those who can't resist stuffing themselves with Thanksgiving turkey, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago Board of Health, Wednesday prescribed this exercise:

"Settle into an easy chair, let the eyelids drop, and breathe naturally."

Six Newsmen Will Go With Ike To Korea

NEW YORK (INS) — General Eisenhower's press spokesman announced Wednesday night that six newsmen—including three press association reporters—will accompany General Eisenhower on his forthcoming trip to Korea instead of the previously announced three.

James C. Hagerty announced that the following newsmen will accompany the General:

Bob Considine of International News Service; Don Whitehead of the Associated Press; Merriman Smith of United Press; Frank Jurkoski of International News Photos who will act as pool photographer for the press photo services and Life Magazine; Dave Oliver of Pathe News who will act as pool cameraman for newsreels and television; and Everett Holles, Mutual Broadcasting Company, who will represent the combined radio networks.

Hagerty added that once in Korea any pool operations for the TV networks would be handled by Julius Zenier, National Broadcasting Company cameraman. Zenier was designated by network offices to be their pool representative in Korea.

Hagerty also reiterated the departure times, arrival date and General's itinerary will be kept secret for security reasons.

Originally Ike had said he would permit one wire service reporter who would "pool" his stories for the world press.

Judge To Consider New Legal Move By Convicted Spies

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal Judge Irving H. Kaufman will take up on Friday a desperate legal move by convicted atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg and Morton Sobell.

The Rosenbergs are scheduled to die in the Sing Sing electric chair the week of Jan. 12. Sobell, sentenced to 30 years in prison, was transferred Wednesday to Alcatraz.

The three seek to have Judge Kaufman disqualified on grounds of prejudice from hearing their applications to have their sentences set aside for constitutional reasons. Kaufman sat at their trial and passed sentence on them for conspiring to pass atomic secrets to Russia.

North Platter Is Still Living By Himself On 111th Birthday

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Snug against the pre-Thanksgiving blizzard "Uncle George" Vancil, who claims to be 111 years old, celebrated his birthday Wednesday in the tiny house where he lives alone.

Several local organizations brought him gifts, a few relatives called, bringing him his noonday dinner, and he hoped to get outside for a walk on his crutches later in the day.

But for the most part, he spent the day listening to his tiny radio. He doesn't read any more because he is losing his sight, but listens to the radio constantly.

Vancil, wearing a patriarchal finger-length brown beard, looks several years younger than the 111 he claims to be. He admits and entertains his own visitors, but has a neighbor woman do his housecleaning and washing.

Born a Cripple.

Vancil doesn't have any special recipe for a long life but says that possibly the fact he was born a cripple and has always been sickly and under a doctor's care may have helped him to longer life. He was born with a club foot. Several years ago he was struck by a car and received permanent injuries.

He was born in Illinois and farmed there in the early years. He came west and settled in Kearney in 1881, later moving to North Platte.

He claims to have known many of the early day figures of this area including Buffalo Bill Cody, whose home was North Platte. He said once while visiting in Illinois Buffalo Bill came to town and amazed the townspeople by tossing his hat in the air and whooping out Vancil's name.

He said he saw Abraham Lincoln frequently while living in Illinois and even had an opportunity to marry Abraham Lincoln's daughter, but he said he wasn't in the marrying mood at the time.

Vancil's memory is faulty at this point for Lincoln had four sons—no daughters.

Nevertheless Vancil has been married three times and has outlived all three wives. He hopes to be buried near Brady, Neb., beside his first wife, who died a few days after their 50th wedding anniversary. He also has outlived his six brothers. Vancil has no children.

Six Governors, Crosby Slated Attend Meet

OMAHA (AP)—Six Missouri Basin governors and one governor-elect will be in Omaha next Monday and Tuesday for year-end meetings of committees concerned with the basin soil and water resources development program.

Brig. Gen. W. E. Potter, Missouri River Division engineer and chairman of the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee (MBIAC), said Wednesday those indicating they will attend include Govs. C. Norman Brunsdale of North Dakota, Sigurd Anderson of South Dakota, Frank A. Barrett of Wyoming, Forrest Smith of Missouri, William S. Beardsley of Iowa, and Val Peterson of Nebraska, along with Gov.-elect Robert Crosby of Nebraska.

Two Meetings

The Missouri River States Committee, made up of governors and other representatives of states in the Missouri Basin, will meet Monday. The MBIAC will meet Tuesday.

Up for consideration by the States Committee will be a proposed Missouri River compact plan for administering the dams, reservoirs and other Missouri Basin projects when completed.

Here to present a draft of the proposed compact will be Dean James M. Landis of New York and Frederick L. Zimmerman of Hunter College, New York. They will represent a committee of three consultants named by the Missouri River States Committee to prepare the draft.

Armed Service Expansion Ups Budget Request

Expansion of installations of the armed services, particularly the Lincoln Air Base and Offutt Field, is being reflected in the budget estimate of the Department of Public Instruction.

Supt. F. B. Decker at budget hearings Wednesday requested $146,000 instead of the $59,781 appropriated two years ago to pay local school districts for tuition of children of service men living on federal property.

The expansion of the training of handicapped children in public schools will also require more state aid. He estimated need of $596,837 instead of the $462,541 in the present biennium.

Had it not been for these two items, Decker asserted he would have offered a reduced budget. He requested $2,347,002 as compared with $2,184,654 appropriated two years ago for the operation of the department.

Gov.-elect Robert Crosby, who has been participating in the budget hearings was told by Dr. E. A. Rogers, acting director of health, that the suggested shifting of inspection of hotels and rooming houses from the agricultural department to the health department "has no public health siginificance."

Dr. Rogers also questioned the advisability of his department making inspection of restuarants while the inspecting is financed by license fees.

224 Persons Will Get Thanksgiving Dinner Food Boxes

Fifty baskets and boxes of food will be delivered to needy families in Lincoln Thursday for Thanksgiving dinners by the Health and Welfare Service Center.

The baskets distributed by the voluntary organization will reach approximately 224 persons, said Mrs. David Rausten, secretary.

Foreign Students Guests At Dinner

Two University of Nebraska foreign students were special guests of the Associated Women, Nebraska Farm Bureau, Wednesday noon at an international friendship dinner at the Lincoln Hotel.

The students, who later answered questions of the women, were Jeanne Beck of France and Anta Aumalis of Latvia. Also on the program was Janice Long of Kimball County, who tap danced, accompanied by her brother, Darrell.

Presiding at the dinner, at which centerpieces were displays of items her daughter, Joan, had brought back from Europe, was Mrs. Dale Stubblefield of Buffalo County.
